FOREWORD

Anything worth striving for must be pre-empted by a period of careful and intense preparation.

We have received this preparation to enter the game of life from Coventry High School. The teachers, our classmates, familiar places, and the many activities all have helped to increase our knowledge and understanding of this complex world.

Those of us who have put this yearbook together have tried to incorporate in it all the things that have made our stay at Coventry a happy and successful one. We earnestly hope that someday in the future you will flip through these pages and be able to say with a fond smile, "How well I remember my days at Coventry High."

DEDICATION

The Knotty Oak is dedicated to a man who has offered his tolerance, understanding, and untiring guidance for the betterment of the senior class. As student council advisor he has worked unceasingly for the benefit of the council. As yearbook advisor he has worked unfailingly to make it a success. In the classrooms he excels as a teacher, and his many field trips and extra-curricular activities have enriched students' lives. As a guidance counselor he takes an interest in each pupil and helps to solve many problems that occur. The class of '62 owes much to this person, and in reciprocation for this help, we would like to dedicate the Knotty Oak of 1962 to:

MR. ROBERT F. ROBERTSON

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Without the School Committee there would be no Coventry High School, for the maintenance and upkeep of the school is their responsibility. The committee, composed of five members who are elected for a four year term, meet twice a month to discuss and settle the inevitable problems that arise.

The hiring of teachers, custodians, other school personnel, the maintaining of school property, the handling of school finances, and the preparing of an annual school budget report are but a few of the tasks of the committee.

The high standards achieved and maintained at Coventry High School are the results of the careful work and planning of the School Committee.

ADMINISTRATION

...e and no small part of the universe; to
...is not a world of caprice but a world
...ld where a verificational experiment is
...the same conditions obtain; to work to
...; to achieve an ever-higher standard of
...o generations yet unborn our experience
...e, and recording the impact of art, of science, of music, and engineering — this is humanity's great adventure. And the leading role that is played in this great drama of the ages will be taken by you. We challenge you, the members of the Class of 1962, to accept your places in this great adventure of making this world a better place in which to live, not only for yourselves but for all mankind.

HENRY J. COOPER
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1962:

Many years ago a tree flourished and grew nearby. It impressed people so much that after it was gone they named the place where it first took root Knotty Oak. Since that time its memory has been preserved in a road, a church, and a school. Though we have no accurate description of this tree it must have been one of great character and strength.

The Knotty Oak is now but a memory and a symbol. As such it has been a source of inspiration to all of our classes in the past. I hope that this class may also find in it a beacon of strength. Somehow, to me it bears the message that a good life and a noble career are still worthwhile. I don't know what it may mean to you, but I do hope it becomes a symbol which will serve you well in the days ahead.

REUEL A. SHELDON
Principal

To the Class of 1962:

One of the most precious of all possessions is power over ourselves — power to bear pain, to meet danger, to follow our convictions. The secret of success is to know how to deny yourself. Demonstrate self-control, and show yourself an educated man. Without self-control all education is worthless.

The challenge to our way of life has never been greater than now. May we each, however, beware of no man more than ourselves. "We carry our worst enemies within us."

Congratulations at this commencement time and best wishes for success in the years ahead to the Class of 1962.

MATHEMATICS

The mathematics curriculum is designed to fulfill the common needs of the high school pupils. The courses and units of instruction provide a sequential presentation of general and special mathematics meeting the present and future educational, vocational, and cultural objectives of individual pupils.

Mindful of new developments and new concepts in mathematics, the Mathematics Department continues its efforts toward improvement and revision of the course of study consistent with recommendations of the School Mathematics Study Groups. The Mathematics Department offers the following courses: Algebra I, Algebra II, Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry and Trigonometry, Review Mathematics, General Mathematics I and General Mathematics II.

The Mathematics Contest and Mathematics Exhibit provide added incentive for the college-capable as well as the general student.

SCIENCE

The objectives of the Science Department are to prepare students for continued study in the field of science and to inform students of the impact of science on human life so that they will be prepared to conduct themselves as intelligent citizens.

The Science Department offers courses in General Science, Biology I and II, Chemistry I, Practical Chemistry, and Physics. Participating in school and state science fairs, sponsoring advanced students who attend U.R.I. and Brown University seminars, and participating in the Science Talent Search and the Future Scientists of America Program are among the special projects carried on by the Science Department. Science Department activities include field trips to universities and industries of the state, the Atoms for Peace Exhibit, the Visiting Scientist programs in physics and biology, recognition to outstanding science students, and three science clubs within the school program.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The courses, activities, and units of instruction in the social studies curriculum are designed to acquaint students with different countries of the world and customs of their people, the operation of our local, state, and national governments, the history of our own country and the role which they must play as responsible citizens in their own communities.

Special projects of the department include field trips to Sturbridge Village and to the United Nations in New York City for American History and American Government classes respectively. Coventry participates in the Rhode Island Model Legislature project, awards prizes for excellence in current events, and students in American Government plan activities culminating in the day in which they take over the chief elective and appointive officers of the town.

Use is made of films, filmstrips, recordings, maps, speakers, and field trips whenever it is felt that these devices lend themselves to a better understanding of the subject being presented and further the goal of the department by helping to develop a mature and informed citizenry.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Students at C.H.S. study languages as a means of communicating ideas directed towards the understanding of the way of life of other people. With the ability to read, write, speak, and understand a foreign language comes the ability to appreciate the total culture of the people who have used that language to express their ideas.

Courses are offered in Latin I, II, and III; French I, II, and III; and Spanish I and II. Students enrolled in these subjects work on special projects to extend their knowledge in particular aspects of language such as art, music, education, and related material.

Special projects of the Foreign Language Department include annual exhibits at open house, the awarding of honors for achievement on competitive, standardized tests, and the sponsoring of club activities.

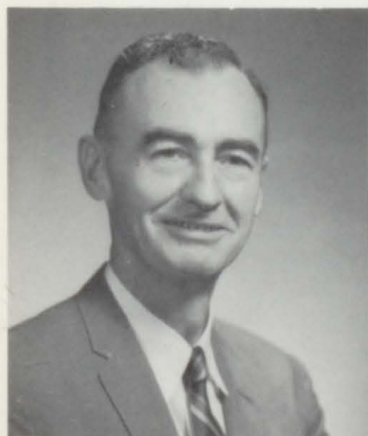

GUIDANCE

The emphasis of the guidance program is individual guidance for the individual student. It is believed that through individual guidance the broad purposes of the program can best be achieved. These purposes are to assist the individual student to adjust to problems and situations, and to effect the highest possible realization of his innate abilities. In furtherance of individual guidance continuous efforts are made to relate to the home and the community when the best interests of the student are involved.

To help the student with these purposes in mind there is maintained in the Guidance Department much occupational, educational, and social information. This information is available at all times to students to assist them in career choices, in the selection of high school courses, in choosing a college or other kind of higher education, and in solving problems arising from group situations.

To assist the student further in making educational and vocational choices, many representatives from colleges and other educational institutions are invited each year to our school to acquaint students with opportunities. In addition, representatives from the R.I. State Department of Employment Security and business and government agencies are invited to acquaint students with employment opportunities.

PRACTICAL ARTS

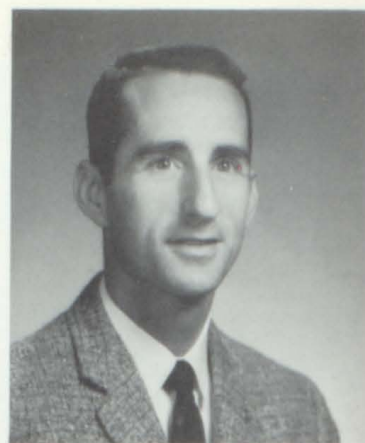

The Practical Arts Department can be separated into these three divisions: industrial arts, home economics, and agriculture. Industrial arts offers a curriculum designed to meet the pupils' needs related to the use of industrial goods and services in the home and the community through courses in drafting, wood-working, auto mechanics, and general shop.

The home economics division consists of instruction to satisfy the home and family life and sometimes the vocational needs of pupils through homemaking courses and activities like homemaking and sewing clubs.

Vocational agriculture serves to give the student a beginning and advance in agriculture, to help him produce farm and market products efficiently, to conserve natural resources, and to manage an agricultural business efficiently through vocational agriculture courses and the Future Farmers of America activities.

FINE ARTS

Courses and activities offered by the Fine Arts Department help students to acquire those skills necessary for meaningful and creative self expression. Students enrolled in this program as well as those who participate only as an audience are taught to listen and to observe intelligently so as to gain an appreciation of this important aspect of life.

Artistic displays in the corridors, elaborate decorations in the cafeteria for the school dances, music education provided at assemblies, and the good percentage of voluntary enrollment in course offerings in these areas show the impact of instruction in music and art carried on at elementary and secondary levels. Both the art and music rooms are available after school for use by students and both areas of instruction participate in the club program.

SECRETARIAL STAFF

It is up to the secretarial staff to handle all the paper work that is necessary to run our school. All records, reports, and college transcripts are the responsibility of these able workers. The staff includes a secretary to the principal, a secretary to the guidance office, an attendance clerk, and a general staff who are accountable for mimeographing and typing notices, handling attendance records, and managing the financial problems of Coventry High School.

SCHOOL NURSE

The school nurse plays a vital part in the mechanics of school operations. She must strive for the physical, mental, and emotional well-being of each student. Through various tests and procedures she can obtain the health ratings of the pupils. If an emergency should arise, be it minor headache or a major emotional problem, she can always be relied on to help and to do the right thing.

LIBRARIAN

The library is a valuable asset to the school. Here a student may obtain all the books and other forms of literature necessary for his studies, and he may also use these books to enter into the world of pleasure and knowledge obtained from reading.

The librarian is in command and she ably assists students to select the needed materials. She is always doing something to make the library more useful and pleasurable for the students.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

The custodial staff helps to keep the school operating smoothly. All incidents requiring custodial attention are quickly attended to. Many a broken milk bottle and many a jammed lock has been cheerfully taken care of by one of the staff.

Another duty of the staff is serving hot lunches to a growing and hungry student body. This feat is done efficiently and quickly with a minimum of confusion.

The staff members in the locker rooms, in the cafeteria, and those who do repair jobs have managed, with the help of the students, to keep Coventry High School looking its best.

CLASS

1958-1959

OUR FRESHMAN YEAR

In September of 1958 we proudly entered Coventry High School for the first time. The activity of life in a new school was frightening to us, but we adjusted quickly to a different routine of work and play. Our class advisor was Mrs. Dorothy Garland. Under her leadership we held our first class meeting and elected our freshman officers. To represent us we chose Samuel McKinney for president and William Stringer as vice president. To keep the records of our first year Lucille Gervais was elected secretary; Martha Corp was elected treasurer to guard our meager funds. Our social committee chairman was Maureen Frechette and her able assistants were Joy Osborne, Frances Thomas, Robert Kirk, and Michael Cotnoir.

1959-1960

OUR SOPHOMORE YEAR

As our sophomore year began, we felt wiser and more experienced in the ways of Coventry High School. Mr. Oliver Collard guided us through our class elections. We chose Clovis Crompton, president; John Reynolds, vice president; Joy Osborne, secretary; and Marjorie Meegan, treasurer. Members of the social committee, headed by Loxi Tourgee, were Maureen Frechette, Lucille Gervais, Gloria Durand, Jacqueline L'Ecuyer, and Frances Thomas. We held our first social function, the Sophomore Dance, amid April showers and looked forward to the coming year when we would be upper-classmen.

HISTORY

OUR JUNIOR YEAR

As juniors we finally attained the goal of upper-classmen. We were ably led through this year of many activities by Mrs. Claire Clary, our class advisor, and our officers. The gavel of the presidency was handed to John Reynolds, and Frances Thomas became our vice president. Martha Corp kept the records of our class, and Marjorie Meegan counted our pennies. Maureen Frechette headed the social committee with the assistance of Lucille Gervais, Jacqueline L'Ecuyer, Gary Perkins, and Kenneth Dunphy. Joy Osborne took care of the distribution of our class rings with the aid of Joyce Campbell, Linda Cookson, Alan Card, and Clovis Crompton. We sponsored three major social functions of the school year: the Christmas Dance, the Junior Spring Dance in March, and, of course, the Junior Prom. Reining over the prom was our lovely queen, Maureen Frechette. Our theme was "Around the World in Eighty Days." We ended a delightful year as juniors on Class Day when we officially became the Senior Class of 1962.

1961-1962

OUR SENIOR YEAR

Our senior year at last! It is hard to realize that four years could fly so quickly. This year we chose William Stringer to head our executive board. Kenneth Dunphy took over the post of vice president. To complete our officers we chose Martha Corp as secretary and Lucille Gervais as treasurer. Frances Thomas was chosen chairman of the social committee, and she is assisted by Joyce Campbell, Maureen Frechette, Raymond Grace, and Kenneth Sorenson. Under the guidance of Mrs. Mary J. Murphy, our class advisor, our Harvest Dance proved to be a successful event. Now we look forward to our Senior Play, our Class Banquet, and our Senior Ball. Graduation, once so far away, will soon be upon us. Although teachers and friends we have come to know at Coventry High School may fade away, our memories of these wonderful four years will live within our hearts forever.

Dancing Around the World

J U N I O R

AROUND WORLD 80

The court attends our Queen

May 5, 1961 was our night. Around the World in Eighty Days was our theme. We danced in the magically transformed cafeteria and performed our Grand March in the gymnasium.

The crowning of Maureen Frechette as our lovely queen was

THE IN DAYS

P R O M

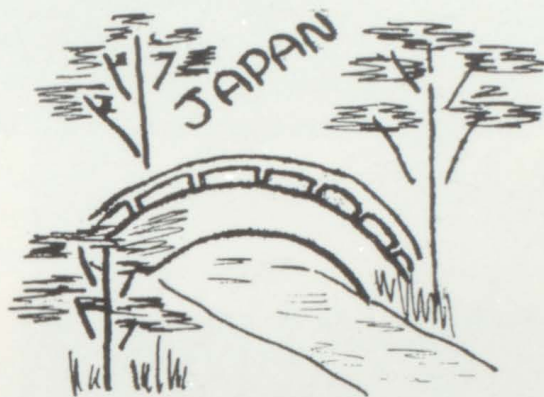

Our Queen triumphantly ascends to her throne

the highlight of the memorable occasion. Marjorie Meegan and Joy Osborne attended our queen as her equally lovely court.

We will always remember that enchanting evening of the Junior Prom when we danced Around the World.

Our Grand March

Congratulations to our Queen

CANDID

"Hope it's finished in time for the dance."

"Correct, Miss Meady.
And so early in the morning, too!"

"Work, Work, All I Do is Work!"

"We're only $598.56 short."

CAMERA

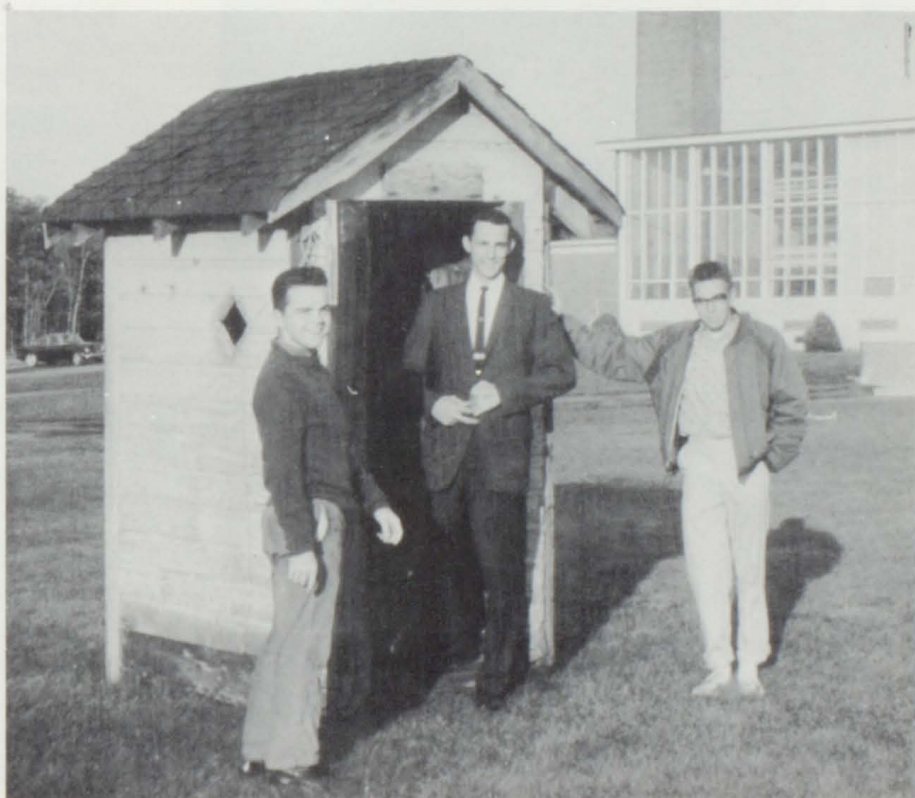

"Has anyone seen a yellow bus around here?"

"I simply adore square dancing."

"T-Bone Steak was never this good!"

"The new Students' Smoking Lounge."

CHARLEY'S AUNT

Senior Play Cast

This year the SENIOR CLASS was proud to present its annual class play entitled "Charley's Aunt." The world-famous comedy, which was under the direction of Miss Marilyn Leddy, stimulated the spectators to tears of laughter, and brought a great enhancement to our treasury.

The play itself is about two college students, Jack and Charley, who are violently in love with two girls. The boys invite the young ladies for luncheon in order to meet Charley's aunt from Brazil. Unexpectedly the aunt's visit is deferred for a few days, which leads to great trouble. The problem is solved by forcing another undergraduate to disguise himself as "Charley's Aunt." The girls were easily outwitted by the clever guile, but everything didn't turn out to be as temperate as expected.

In the future, we may commemorate our SENIOR PLAY as being one of the most pleasurable and successful activities of our senior year.

"Oh! I'm so delighted you could come."

"My Dearest Darling" No, No — —
"Dear Amy" That's it!

"Anyone for tea?"

The cheerleaders, under the supervision of Mrs. Grace Mainey, rooted Coventry's basketball team to victory. While freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are eligible for the junior varsity, only juniors and seniors may be varsity cheerers. By promoting good sportsmanship and cheering the players, the cheerleaders have made themselves an asset to the school.

WRESTLING

Ready to wrestle

Coach Carlo Gamba

Pinned

In its third year of competition in the Rhode Island Inter-scholastic League, Coventry's wrestling team was under the instruction of a new coach, Mr. Carlo Gamba. Mr. Gamba proved to be an able coach, helping Coventry's wrestling team win its first league match. Although the team is losing five fine wrestlers in June, next year's team will have the experience needed for strong competition. The league in which Coventry wrestled consisted of eight other schools, all with much larger enrollments than Coventry. As our school grows, it is hoped that more will participate in this sport, thus increasing the wrestling team's strength and reputation in its league.

WRESTLING TEAM

Coach Richard Lee

Coventry's Cross Country Team, coached by Richard Lee, finished the 1961 season in a tie for first place in Class C competition. Standouts for Coventry throughout the past season were: Phil Lamoureux, Donald Souliere, Leonard LeBlanc, John Chevalier, Greg Hudson, and Wayne Offiler. In the future interest in Cross Country is expected to grow as it has in the past years.

Once again, Coach Arthur Montanaro will supervise the popular game of golf at Coventry High. The 1962 members have not yet been chosen. Coventry Pines Golf Course, on Harkney Hill Road, will be the site of the tryouts which start in April for the five man team. Last year Coventry came in fourth in the Western Division which includes West Warwick, Warwick, Scituate, Mt. Pleasant, North Kingston, Bishop Hendricken, and Classical.
