The Legend of the Knotty Oak

In a quaint town many, many years ago there grew a magnificent oak tree. So impressive was the tree and so superior to other oaks that the people referred to it as a landmark. As a symbol of strength the tree seemed as if it would remain standing forever. Yet fate had other plans. One spring when all the forest began to bloom, it was noticed that the oak tree was growing lifeless. The townspeople gathered in concern and discovered the tree had become infested with deadly insects. For months the people helplessly observed the slow deterioration of their prized oak tree. In the years which passed the tree became full of lumpy, knobby knotholes. To say the least it was transformed into quite an ugly growth. At long last in November, 1905, it was chopped down. The residents of Coventry thereupon divided equally among themselves the pieces of their beloved tree. To this day the memory of the "knotty oak" remains perpetuated in the name of the road on which it stood sixty years ago.

FOREWORD

Life is largely a pattern of habits, begun in childhood and made more permanent throughout life. Our past four years at Coventry High School are a definite part of our present lives. Our reactions to current conditions are often determined by our past experiences. Any call upon us to change our thinking usually requires the drawing out of habits established in early childhood.

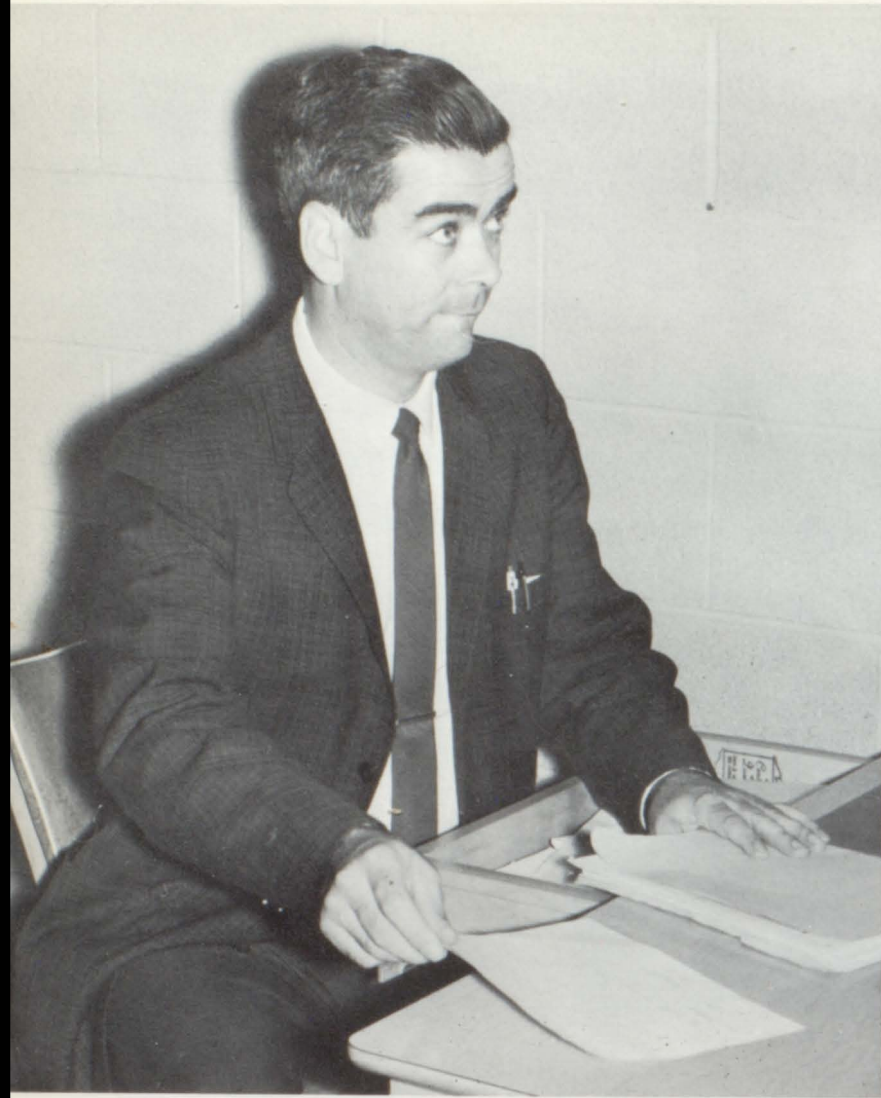

Success in high school comes only from effort and persistence. Our teachers have tried to develop within us two sides of intelligence. The first has to do with the mechanical and physical objects in the world around us, the second with encouraging us to get along with other people, and thus help the cause of brotherhood.

Within this book, The Knotty Oak, we have tried to show the picture of school life which will serve as the pattern for our future years. We hope that it will help us to remember our high school days.

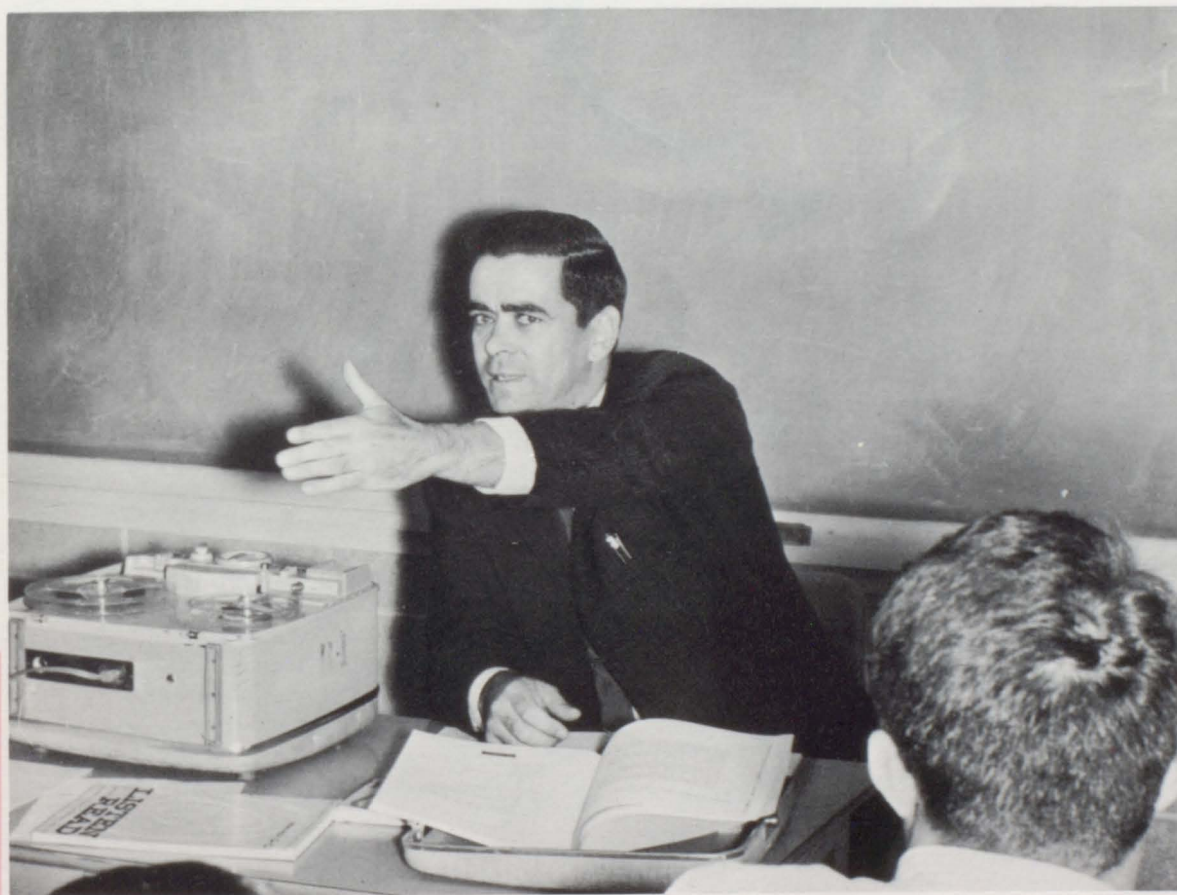

DEDICATED

To LOUIS J. MARSHALL

This edition of the Knotty Oak is dedicated to a man whose work with the individual has done much for the welfare of Coventry's students and has set an example for the teaching profession. His helpful advice and consistent effort as director of the Senior Play have won our deepest respect and admiration.

In appreciation for this sincere friendship and shared wisdom, we, the Class of 1965, wish to dedicate our Knotty Oak to Mr. Louis J. Marshall.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Look, my friends, and you shall see
Our administration and faculty.
To us, the students, they seem as czars
Ruling our lives, but yet they're ours.
And admittedly we now recall
The time and help they gave to all,
Working, asking nothing in return,
That we succeed is what they yearn.
So turn this page and then observe
Those who do our praise deserve.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

L. to R.: Robert Ianotti; Henry J. Cooper, Superintendent of Schools; George Shehab, Chairman; David Clary; Mrs. Ernest Pike; Raymond C. Sherman.

The Coventry School Committee encounters new problems each year concerning all schools throughout the town. As we note the many problems placed before them we realize how capable the committee must be to arrive at satisfactory solutions. Without their diligent work our school would be unable to function.

To the Class of 1965:

Thinking you would like a square meal will not in itself earn you one. Thinking you would like a strong body will not without effort on your own part make you an athlete. Thinking you would like to be kind or successful will not bring you gentleness or achievement if you stop with mere thinking. The arrows of intention must have a bow of strong purpose to impel them. May you have the strong purpose to impel you to the achievement of your highest ambitions and service to your fellowmen.

ROBERT F. ROBERTSON
Vice-Principal

Mr. Sheldon, Mr. Searle, and Mr. Robertson share the administrative responsibilities of keeping the school efficiently run. Each year, as enrollment increases the number of problems also increase. We, the class of 1965, wish to thank them for their effort on our behalf.

ENGLISH

Whatever a person's vocation may be, the ability to express himself clearly, concisely, and effectively is valuable and satisfying. The English Department seeks to develop maximum communication skills within the capabilities of each student by setting up the following objectives as goals: to think clearly, to listen intelligently, to read with comprehension, to express himself clearly and correctly in speech and in writing, and to develop an appreciation of the best writings of American and English literature.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Today's high school students are tomorrow's adults. If they are to become responsible citizens they must learn how this country is run and why it operates the way it does. Through the use of films, audio-visual aids, and a study of current affairs social studies students are readily familiarized with their subject matter. The teachers of this department strive not only to acquaint their students with the history and development of their own country but also of other nations. They also seek to demonstrate the steps through which this nation became a world leader, and to teach the democratic principles under which the American way of life is formulated.

SCIENCE

The importance of science in our daily living is ever increasing. Through science we determine our future as a prosperous nation. The significance of this subject thus compels the students to have a working knowledge of the different fields which science embraces. Through the Science Department students gain this knowledge.

Courses in General Science and the Biological and Physical Sciences are offered to all pupils. Not only may they learn through schooling but also by extracurricular activities of the Science Department such as: school and state science fairs, Saturday Seminars at the University of Rhode Island, field trips, and the Future Scientists' of America Club.

HEADS

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

As has been confirmed by the advancement of international communications, our world is becoming extremely small. We need to be prepared to associate much more frequently with persons who speak in various tongues. Our Language Department, having realized the need for the individual's knowledge of foreign languages, has worked diligently to perfect its teaching of French, Spanish, and Latin. With the employment of tape recorders and the other technical aids provided in the Language Laboratory, students easily become proficient in word pronunciation, syntax, and grammar.

BUSINESS

Our Business Department, in foreseeing and understanding the problems of the highly competitive, commercial world, has undertaken the responsibility of guiding many students to success in various fields of business. The large number of courses offered assure a place for both the students who want a complete commercial education and the college preparatory students who desire only a good background in typing to aid them in their future studies.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Good physical health is an underlying factor in everything we do. Without it a student's chances of success in many fields are greatly impaired. In recognizing this truth, our Physical Education Department has set out to impart a sound body on as many students as possible. Wrestling, hockey, track, cross-country, baseball, basketball, golf, and football comprise a list of Coventry's interscholastic teams; while bowling, Girls' Athletic Association, cheerleading, and the newly formed Pep Squad are some of the extracurricular activities being offered this year.

ACTING DEPARTMENT HEADS

DONALD J. CLOSTERMAN
Acting Dept. Head
Mathematics
Rhode Island College, B.Ed.
Advisor, Electronics Club

MATHEMATICS

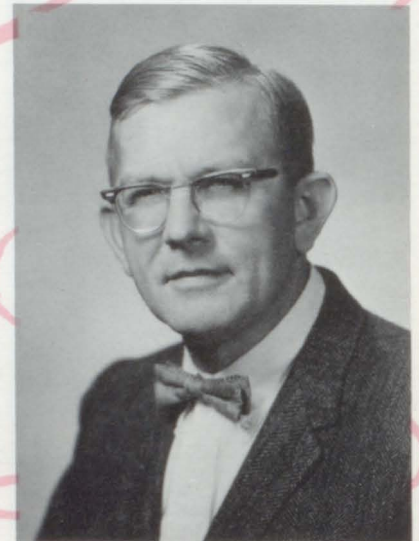

Awake to new concepts and new instructive techniques in the science of quantity; the Mathematics Department continually strives toward improvement and revision of the material offered.

The curriculum provides the opportunity for all students to improve their knowledge of mathematics. The courses of instruction present the theories necessary to fulfill the educational and vocational objectives of each pupil. These courses include: Algebra, Plane Geometry, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, Review Mathematics, or General Mathematics, Calculus, Modern Algebra, and Modern Plane Geometry.

PRACTICAL ARTS

The Practical Arts Department has three main divisions: industrial arts, agriculture, and floriculture. The industrial arts program offers training in various basic manual skills which are valuable to students when seeking employment. Metal shop, wood-working, and drafting are taught daily to give the students all the instruction and practice possible.

The agriculture program is extremely beneficial to the students who are interested in farming and plan to make a career in this field. The students gain pointers on animal husbandry, conservation, and the production and marketing of farm products. New this year is a floriculture course which enables the students to learn the art of flower growing and arranging.

PRACTICAL ARTS (HOME ECONOMICS)

The Home Economics Department at Coventry High School, through classroom experience, prepares students for later life. Many pupils find this course enjoyable as they feel it will always be useful to them. Instruction in cooking, sewing, interior decorating, child care, clothing, household management, and good grooming is available to all students. A beginner in Home Economics learns general skills, whereas students who continue in this study will progress in proficiency. A thorough understanding of these areas is beneficial regardless of vocation.

DIRECTORS and SUPERVISORS

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department strives to help the student gain greater self-understanding so that he can make intelligent decisions concerning his own future. This is accomplished by individual conferences between counselor and student. By interpreting to the student test scores, the counselor helps the student learn about his abilities, aptitudes, and interests. As the student gains greater self-understanding, he is provided with educational, occupational, and social information to enable him to make intelligent and objective decisions.

MUSIC

Through music much pleasure can be derived. The Music Department this year has done much, not only in developing the musical abilities of many individuals, but also in cultivating greater music appreciation throughout the school. The band, orchestra, glee club, and choruses all contribute to a well rounded music program. The harmoniously musical future of Coventry High School is certain to be personified by the music careers embarked by the alumni.

FINE ARTS

Art is the translation of the artist's feelings into beauty of form and richness of color. Students enrolled in art courses are taught to observe, appreciate, and create. They acquire the skills necessary for clear and expressive work.

The art program contributes to the enrichment of the school program, since the crafts can be integrated with other learnings. The decorations for school dances and the attractive displays and exhibits in the corridors represent the creativity Coventry's art students acquire.

SENIORS

Again, fellow students, your attention please.

Here come the seniors! So down on your knees
And humble yourselves before those who endured
Four years at Coventry and are now assured
That the world is waiting at their feet.

It is at that! Don't you think?

We wish for them the very best,

May nothing be theirs but pure success!

Flip this page. You will survive.

Now here's the class of '65!

Cora Fairman

SENIOR CLASS ADVISOR
MARY J. MURPHY

To the Class of 1965:

On the base of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor are inscribed these words:

"I lift my lamp beside the golden door."

These words symbolize the American tradition as the land of opportunity and freedom. You have learned that the Founding Fathers set up a republic in which the opportunity to make the most of your talent and industry has been guaranteed. You must never lose the sense of responsibility, individual and collective, which is the very cement that prevents freedom from crumbling into license. The principles of American democracy must be respected if America is to continue to be a land of freedom.

Congratulations at this commencement time and best wishes in your future endeavors.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT
FRANK SCHMITT

Fellow Graduates:

Our four years at Coventry High School are now concluded and we are hopefully prepared to take our positions in life. Although our futures are unforeseeable, we should try to attain our own special goals.

We soon will find ourselves indebted to our parents and teachers for the time and assistance they have given us in preparation for our futures. They have attempted to give us basic principles and knowledge which are necessary for a successful life. Now our responsibility is to use these assets placed before us to the utmost of our abilities.

MCMLXI-MCMLXII

And it came to pass in the year nineteen hundred and sixty one that the chief scribes and prophets of the Coventryites counseled among themselves saying, "Let us elect from the people a new leader." And on the appointed day the people gathered in the temple of learning and chose their leader George Luther. In a like manner were chosen his chief officials: Vice President, Stuart Colwell; Secretary, Brenda Chaffee; Treasurer, Penny Le Ber; and Social Committee Chairman, Linda Ballantine. Their actions were sanctioned by Mrs. Barbara Walley. And during his term of office wise men came unto the President and brought before him ideas revealed to them in a dream for a Freshman Hop and a Skating Party. And the President saw that these were good and they were carried out, thus fulfilling the prophecy.

MCMLXII-MCMLXIII

Under the counseling of Mrs. Joan Robertson, the newly annointed Sophomore class gathered unto itself and chose new leaders. There arose a new President and he was of the name Ronald Allen. Unto him was brought a counsel of four in number, these being George Turrene as Vice President; Barbara Burgess as Scribe; Marcia Ribeiro as Treasurer; and Brenda Chaffee as Social Committee Chairman. As our bountiful year progressed, our joy was exceedingly great at the bowling party and Spring Dance. And so it came to pass that our second year of plenty was fulfilled.

MCMLXIII-MCMLXIV

With glad tidings and exceedingly great joy we hearkened unto the words and wisdom of our able class advisor, Mrs. Claire Clary. And again there was a day set aside for class elections. Thus was chosen the President, John Meegan. Being of fine judgement the people appointed individuals of great wisdom to assist him in his duties. They were Gary Marks, Vice President; Andrea Nadeau, Secretary; Marcia Ribeiro, Treasurer; Brenda Chaffee, Social Committee Chairman; and Frank Schmitt, Ring Committee Chairman.

With the forthcoming of the Yuletide season a proclamation was sent throughout the land heralding the annual Christmas Dance.

Lo the time passed and the long awaited day arrived when we received our class rings. As the year came to a close, plans were made for the Junior Prom at which our queen, Brenda Chaffee, reigned over a joyous multitude. Upon the ninth day of June we humbly assumed the highest position and were proclaimed Seniors.

MCMLXIV-MCMLXV

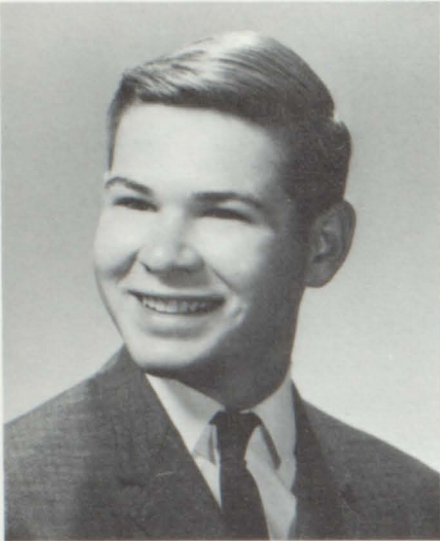

And in the fourth year Mrs. Mary Murphy came before us saying, "Hear ye this, O Seniors, who are called by the name of the Class of '65, and are come forth out of three years of high school; it is time for you to choose, from among yourselves, a leader."

We gathered together and chose from the multitude our mighty ones: President, Frank Schmitt; Vice President, George Luther; Secretary, Earlene Brown; Treasurer, Marcia Ribeiro; and Social Committee Chairman, Brenda Chaffee.

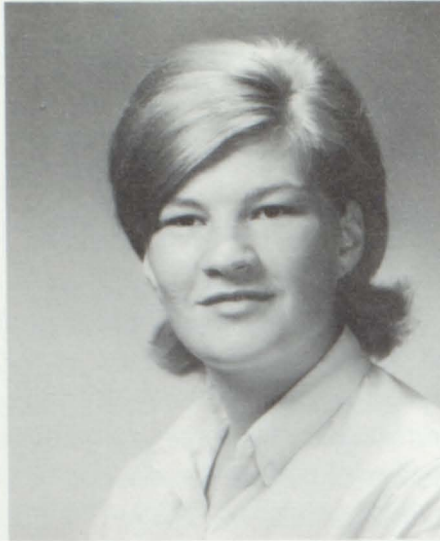

The harvest season was marked by a dance. The time of merriment approached and in keeping with the spirit of the season our play "What a Life" was presented.

Suddenly the night which had long been prophesied was upon us—our Senior Ball. A feast is made for laughter; thus did we make merry at the banquet. And it came to pass in the year nineteen hundred and sixty five that commencement exercises marked the beginning of our Exodus.

Saturday Seminars are held at the University of Rhode Island for those who wish to further pursue studies in mathematics, engineering, biology, physics, oceanography, chemistry, and laboratory applications of the biological sciences. Under competent instruction the students carry on various experiments and mathematical computations in accordance with their topic of study. The experience and knowledge gained from the seminars is invaluable to these selected students as they continue their education.

TEEN REPORTERS

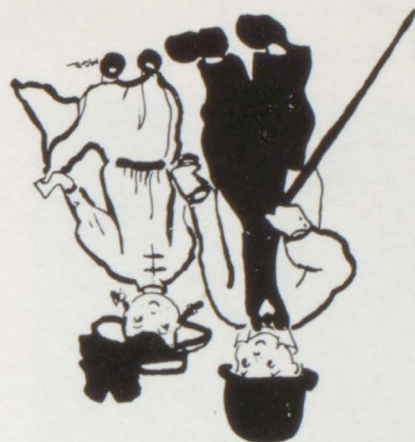

JUNE ESSEX

For the past two years members of our class have represented Coventry High School in reporting all educational and extracurricular activities sponsored by the school. It has been their duty to inform others of school functions which take place throughout the year. Through the articles these reporters have written for the Pawtuxet Valley Daily Times and The Evening Bulletin, residents of Coventry and neighboring towns have been informed of school activities. Because of their diligent work these reporters deserve special recognition for a job well done.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Underclassmen, do you remember
The trouble you had last September?
Upperclassmen tried to be of aid
But more confusion is what they made.
Upperclassmen is what you long to be,
But from now till then is eternity
Or so it seems. But soon before
You even chance to close the door
On freshman, sophomore, or junior year
Your senior year will soon be here.

FOREIGN STUDENT

This year we have had the pleasure of welcoming a vivacious girl to Coventry High School. She is Ulla Andersson from the village of Askim in Gothenburg, Sweden. She came to Coventry in April and in September entered this school as a sophomore.

Ulla attended nine years of elementary school in Sweden and then obtained a job as a cashier. Having worked for three years, she saved enough money for a trip to the United States. She is staying with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Carlson, on Flat River Road.

Ulla admires the fact that such a large school is able to achieve such a friendly and familiar atmosphere and she hopes to remain in Coventry in order to complete her high school education.

ACTIVITIES

Even the most dedicated students agree
School is more fun with activity.
The Entry, the council, or perhaps the band
Was where you made your brilliant stand.
Or maybe the yearbook, a club, or a play
Occupied the fun part of your day.
All seemed to ease our homework load
And gave our lives a happier mode.
Thus, captured in the next few pages
Are joys we'll remember through the ages.

GUIDO DiBIASIO, ADVISOR

A school newspaper is one of the main components necessary for a well-rounded school program. Through this publication it is possible for students to express their ideas and opinions in a creative and intelligent manner. Our school paper, the Entry, has greatly improved each year due to the diligent work of all members, the assistance of capable advisors, and the support of the student body. Thus, in the years to come, everyone should strive to enhance the qualities of their newspaper for continued improvement.

Under the advice of Mr. Eugene Gravel, Latin students from grades nine through twelve combine their talents to produce the Excelsior. Besides being the pride of Coventry High School Latin scholars, the Excelsior is unique in that it is the only Latin newspaper in the state. Among the articles found in the paper are up-to-date reports on the progress of the various Latin classes and a synopsis of the activities in which the members of the Junior Classical League have participated.

MR. EUGENE GRAVEL,

THE CROWNING OF OUR LOVELY PROM QUEEN

May 9, 1964, will always have a special meaning for the members of the class of '65. On that evening an event which had been looked forward to with great enthusiasm occurred. The Junior Prom took place at the Rocky Point Paladium with all the pomp and ceremony of a royal coronation.

Brenda Chaffee was chosen as Prom Queen. Marcia Ribeiro, Suzanne Meady, and Andrea Nadeau composed the Queen's Court. Under the direction of Mr. Edward Drew, the band supplied the music for the evening. As the dancing came to an end, wonderful memories were left in the hearts of all who attended.
