... the Preparation for a Spring Semi-formal.

The sophomore year at Coventry presents the faculty with students who are a little more familiar with the school and its rules. It is the year when most students realize that though they are underclassmen, they, too, are an important part of the Coventry student body. The Sophomores participate in many of the school activities and make up a large portion of the membership in extracurricular organizations.

Under the supervision of Miss Susan Duksta, the tenth grade class plans its traditional spring dance each year. The students form committees to take care of various matters such as tickets, decorations, refreshments, and publicity. Because of the diligent work of Miss Duksta and the student committees, the Sophomore Dance is always a great success.

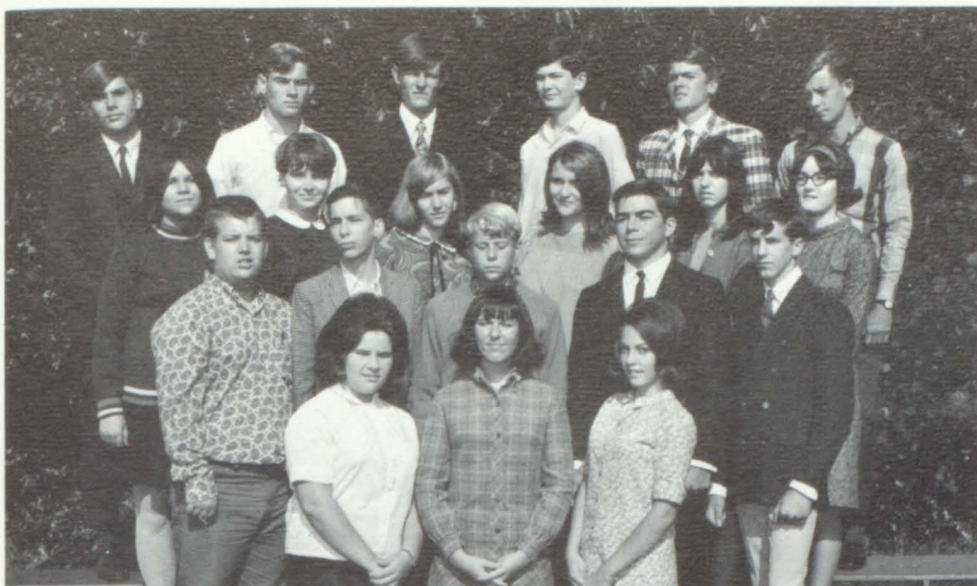

Although the sophomore year has less activity in it than the other school years, it also has a bit less anxiety. It is the "cooling-off" period between the freshman uncertainty and the hustle of the junior and senior years. Since there is less of the hurried feeling, the sophomores begin to come out of their shells and really participate for the school. The sophomore year is the year of new enthusiasm.

Along with their daily academic studies, sophomore boys engage in a school physical fitness program which includes drill.

... a Ring. a Village. a Prom.

The busiest time of underclassman activity at Coventry High School comes when students reach their junior year. Throughout the year Juniors engage in numerous activities which supplement their daily academic studies. Some of these activities include the receiving of class rings, a trip to Sturbridge Village, and the fulfillment of a dream—the Junior Prom.

One of the most exciting events during the junior year is the time Juniors order and receive their class rings. This is the second year that the Juniors received the rings of specially designed by the class of 1968. Most of the rings are ordered with the traditional red stone, however, other color stones are made available by the Balfour Company.

Usually taken in the fall or winter season of the year, the Sturbridge Village trip enables the Juniors taking United States History to receive a wider knowledge of the actual every day life of the early colonists in New England. Juniors selected to go on this worthwhile trip enjoy a day's stay at the village and gain a broader view of colonial life. After having spent a day at the village, Juniors always feel that the trip was worthwhile and enjoyable.

In the spring, the junior's year is culminated by a social highlight—the Junior Prom. Although it only comes once in a lifetime, this event is long remembered by all who attend. The Juniors not only engage in their first formal dance, but they are also given a feeling of satisfaction in knowing that they have created the atmosphere for a perfect evening. Mrs. Nancy Cyr, class advisor, is of great importance in planning this memorable event. So once again, the junior year comes to a close, and the Juniors take their step to become Seniors at Coventry.

Beginning their final year at Coventry High, seniors are enthusiastic about making it their most enjoyable. Under the direction of Mrs. Joan Robertson, they prepare for their Senior Harvest Dance. Soon posters adorn the corridors announcing the first social event of the year, and the art room becomes cluttered with decorations. Thus the day arrives and seniors attend the first of their many activities.

As the Christmas season approaches, attention is centered on the production of the Senior Play, which is directed by Miss Carolyn Chirnside. Finally the anticipated highlight approaches, and all too soon the many hours of fun in planning and rehearsing are ended.

Throughout the major portion of the year many seniors work on the production of the Knotty Oak. Page by page, the yearbook is completed under the direction of Mr. Allen Moores and Mr. Paul Laferriere.

The Senior Ball, the final social dance of their years at Coventry High, is widely anticipated by the seniors. While dancing to the pleasant music and parading in the Grand March, many reflect upon their past four years.

The result of the yearbook staff's efforts is unveiled at the Senior Banquet. Other highlights of this memorable evening include the reading of the class will and the presentation of the class gifts.

Then, the much anticipated day arrives: Graduation. With mixed emotions and contemplative expressions, the seniors trade the corridors of Coventry High for the untraveled roads of the future.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISOR, Mrs. Joan Robertson

We the class of 1968 express great appreciation to Mrs. Joan Robertson, who has been our advisor for three years.

Phase A.

Fellow Graduates:

When we graduate this year, we will take with us more than just memories; we will take the knowledge and maturity that we have acquired both inside and outside the classroom.

Today we see changes all around us—within our school, our country, and our world. But we, too, have changed. We now can recognize ourselves as adults in our great modern world. Having been exposed to some of the knowledge known to mankind, a sampling of life's hardships, and many enlightening experiences, we are ready not only to cope with the world's problems, but also to contribute to our society.

As president of our class of 1968, I am certain that you will be successful in your endeavors, and I do hope that you will not forget these four rewarding years.

Ralph Henson Jr.

The Culmination of Our Education . . .

. . . at Coventry High School marks the beginning of many different futures for each and every one of us. Facing the busy and changing world that awaits us, we will each choose our own way of life and contribute to society in our own special way, through informing our nation's youth of current ideas, . . .

Our Memories Of Past Years As...

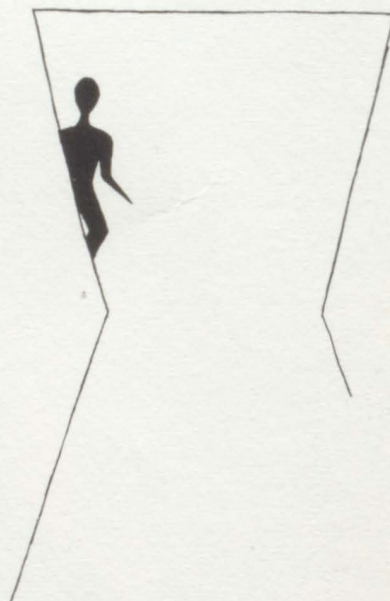

...Freshmen,...

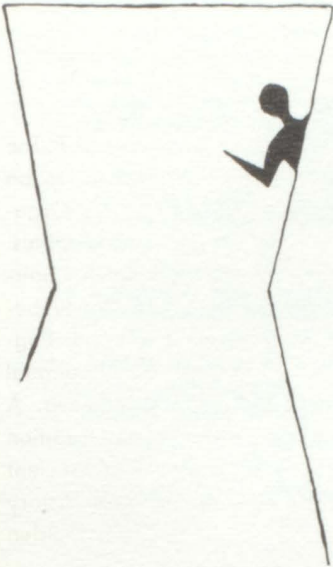

Have you heard about Youth? entrance? admittance? a coming of age? The time to find new ways, new patterns, new experiences. A road once taken—to be revisited only through the mind. 1965. Open doors. Open eyes. Permeate. Organize a class. A vote for officers to lead the way. Bob Henson: Presidential status. Secretary? Dale Anderson. Paul Medas as Treasurer. And a Social Committee Chairman Debby Fraza. Three cheers! Finally settled in an environment that slowly becomes familiar. A world of variety: Earth Science, Ancient History, Algebra I, English 9. More tests. New procedures. Will March ever come? Here it is. An annual event—the Freshman Dance. Below the sea to Neptune's Frolic. Fish. Seaweed. A mermaid? No—Mrs. Nancy Cyr—class advisor. And a gift with more than tradition behind it. Appreciation. Scarabs. To April. Big city lights appear for some. Ancient History to New York City. Cloisters and RCA and Guggenheim and Natural History and Staten Island and. And. May-June. Fini. An end to era #1. The First Golden era of Phase A. Can you see what is to come? Perhaps a change.

...Sophomores,...

Have you heard about Return? Assuming old patterns. Finding old friends. New innovations. Let's rotate the periods. Where do I go next? Back to the old routine. Permeate. Organize. Is it time to elect again? Better get to it. Vote for a class president '66 style. Bob Henson. Sound familiar? On to the Vice. Dale Anderson to the fore. In Secretary's place—Kathy Campbell. And in Treasurer's seat is Doreen Stephen. To lead a Social Committee—Jean Edson. Organized again. Proceed. To learn. To absorb. To laugh. To discover. To mature. What time is it? Oh . . . about time for our Sophomore Dance. Have you been to Blue Hawaii? Nets, leis, ocean breezes. Aloha! What's that ahead? A wahini? or Mrs. Joan Robertson partaking of the first of three as our class advisor. A handbag. Probably a better token of appreciation than a coconut. And as the blue Pacific sails off into the sunset, so do we. It's that time again. Two down—two to go. Can it be that another golden era is passed? Prepare yourselves—another approaches. Que sera, sera. Perhaps a change.

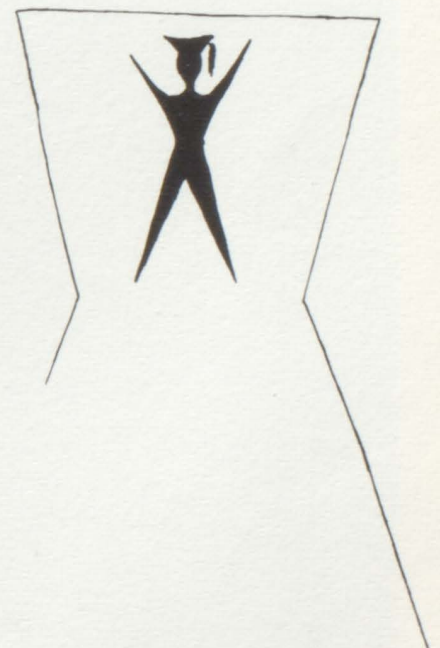

... Juniors, ...

Have you heard about Upperclassmen? Finally! approaching the summit. Now in the suburbs of adulthood. Who is to take the wheel this time around? How about Brad Lussier? O.K.! With John Moran as Vice-president to steer the course. Performing Secretarial duties—Marcia Swanson. And Treasurer Doreen Stephen takes a second term while Rita Skurka emerges as the busy Social Committee Chairman. Busy people. Busy year. December—Junior Christmas Dance. A Winter Wonderland of snow. And Mrs. Joan Robertson braves the brisk weather to commence another year of advising the class. A stop-off at Old Sturbridge Village for some fun. Rings. Specially designed for '68. Prestige. Another step up the ladder. Prom time. Moonlight and Roses. We could have danced all night. A Queen—Brenda Sylvia. A gracious court—Jean Edson; Rita Skurka. Once in a lifetime—gone by. But on to greater heights. Class Day. Seniority at last. A gavel from 67's outgoing President Phillip Paul to 68's Brad Lussier. We've made it! We've made it! On to the final golden era. Phase A is fading fast. What's going on? A realization. Can it really be happening? We're moving on. Perhaps a change.

... Seniors.

Have you heard about a Dream? A Dream realized. A goal reached. The peak of Mt. Beginning. The last election. Bob Henson: a familiar face at the presidential position. A Vice-president of choice Paul Frechette. How to become a class Secretary? Ask Rita Mazzone. And who do we see with the money again but Doreen Stephen. Get those dues! And, too, is Rita Skurka—Social Committee Chairman. A Position split in two: Dale Anderson—Larry Pearce: co-editors Knotty Oak. But it's time for New England reaping. Senior Harvest Dance. Senior Harvest Barn Dance. Swing your partner! or bugaloo. And there—near the cider keg. A familiar and much appreciated class advisor: Mrs. Joan Robertson. On—past Winter. Now to a Ball. A senior Ball with grandeur, a symbol of attainment. How about a banquet? The presentation of a will, a gift, a Book. And then on to Class Day—relinquishment of a Title. And a graduation. The sinking feeling inside. Are we really leaving? Where have four short years fled? What did we give? A short History perhaps. A short era perhaps. An important Phase. The End. Definitely a change.

Have you heard about? . . .
Yes, you have.
The mingling of Us and the World.
A small Part of a Whole:
but nonetheless a Part.
Thirteen Hundred from Billions.
Yet we exist. a Part of Today.
A Part of Tomorrow.
Ending Phase A. Memories.
Beginning Phase B. A Question.
What is It Why is It Where is It LIFE.
Sailing on a boat on a river.
Tangerine Trees. Marmalade Skies.
and somebody calls You.
your Mind. your Heart. your Soul.
And whether we answer slowly:
It's up to Us.
for what is Life but Sergeant Pepper.
or Times Square or Viet Nam or Lunch or a stone in your shoe or C.H.S.
Roll up for the Mystery Tour.
It's what we make it.
Not what it makes us.
a New Experience is arising.
the Horizon is Blue. or Grey.
and if Yesterday was Bad;
Wait for Tomorrow.
Thorns.

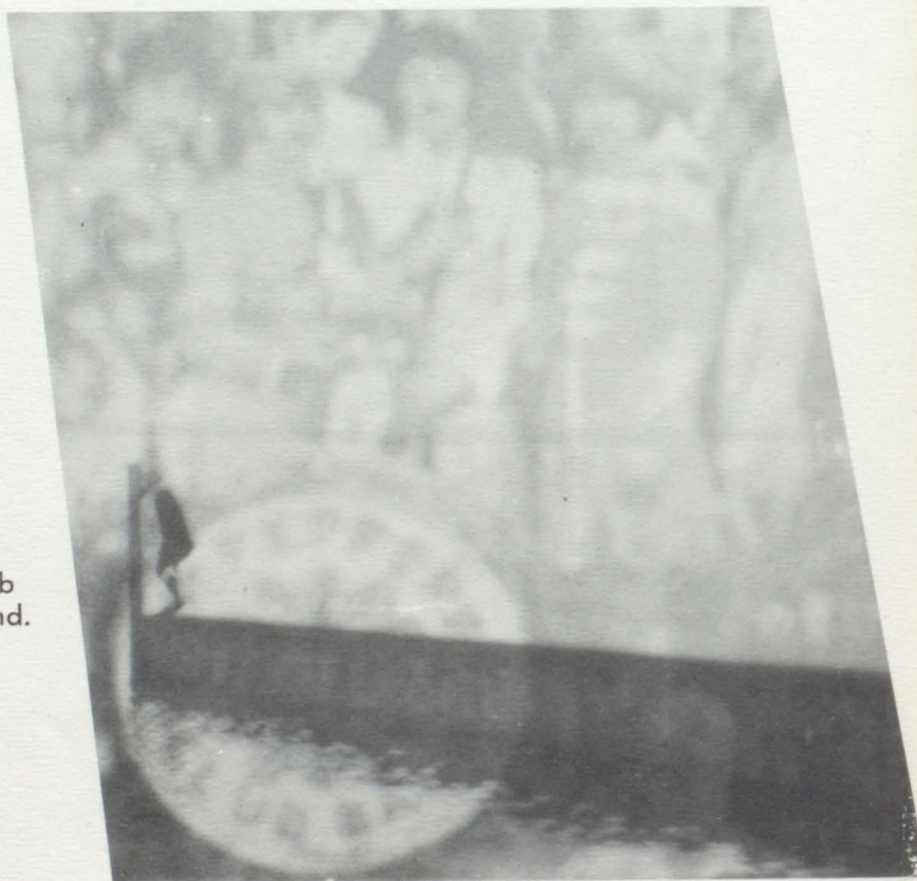

But Life is not to be avoided.
the Dawn rises only Once—and a setting Sun cannot be Stopped. Eleanor Rigby:
a Waste of Time and Sun.
Something is about to Happen.
Make Something of It.
Live It. Become It.
An Awakening. A Promotion.
Strawberry Fields ahead.
We've got an Invitation R.S.V.P.
and if you count the Holes in Blackburn-Lancashire. 4000.
and Each One Matters. a Part.
as We.
It's what we make it.
Not what it makes us.
Where do You go? I don't know.
a Decision to be made.
a Future to be Lived.
a Parade to Join in.
Strike up the band.
We're Leaving Home.
Bye.
Bye.

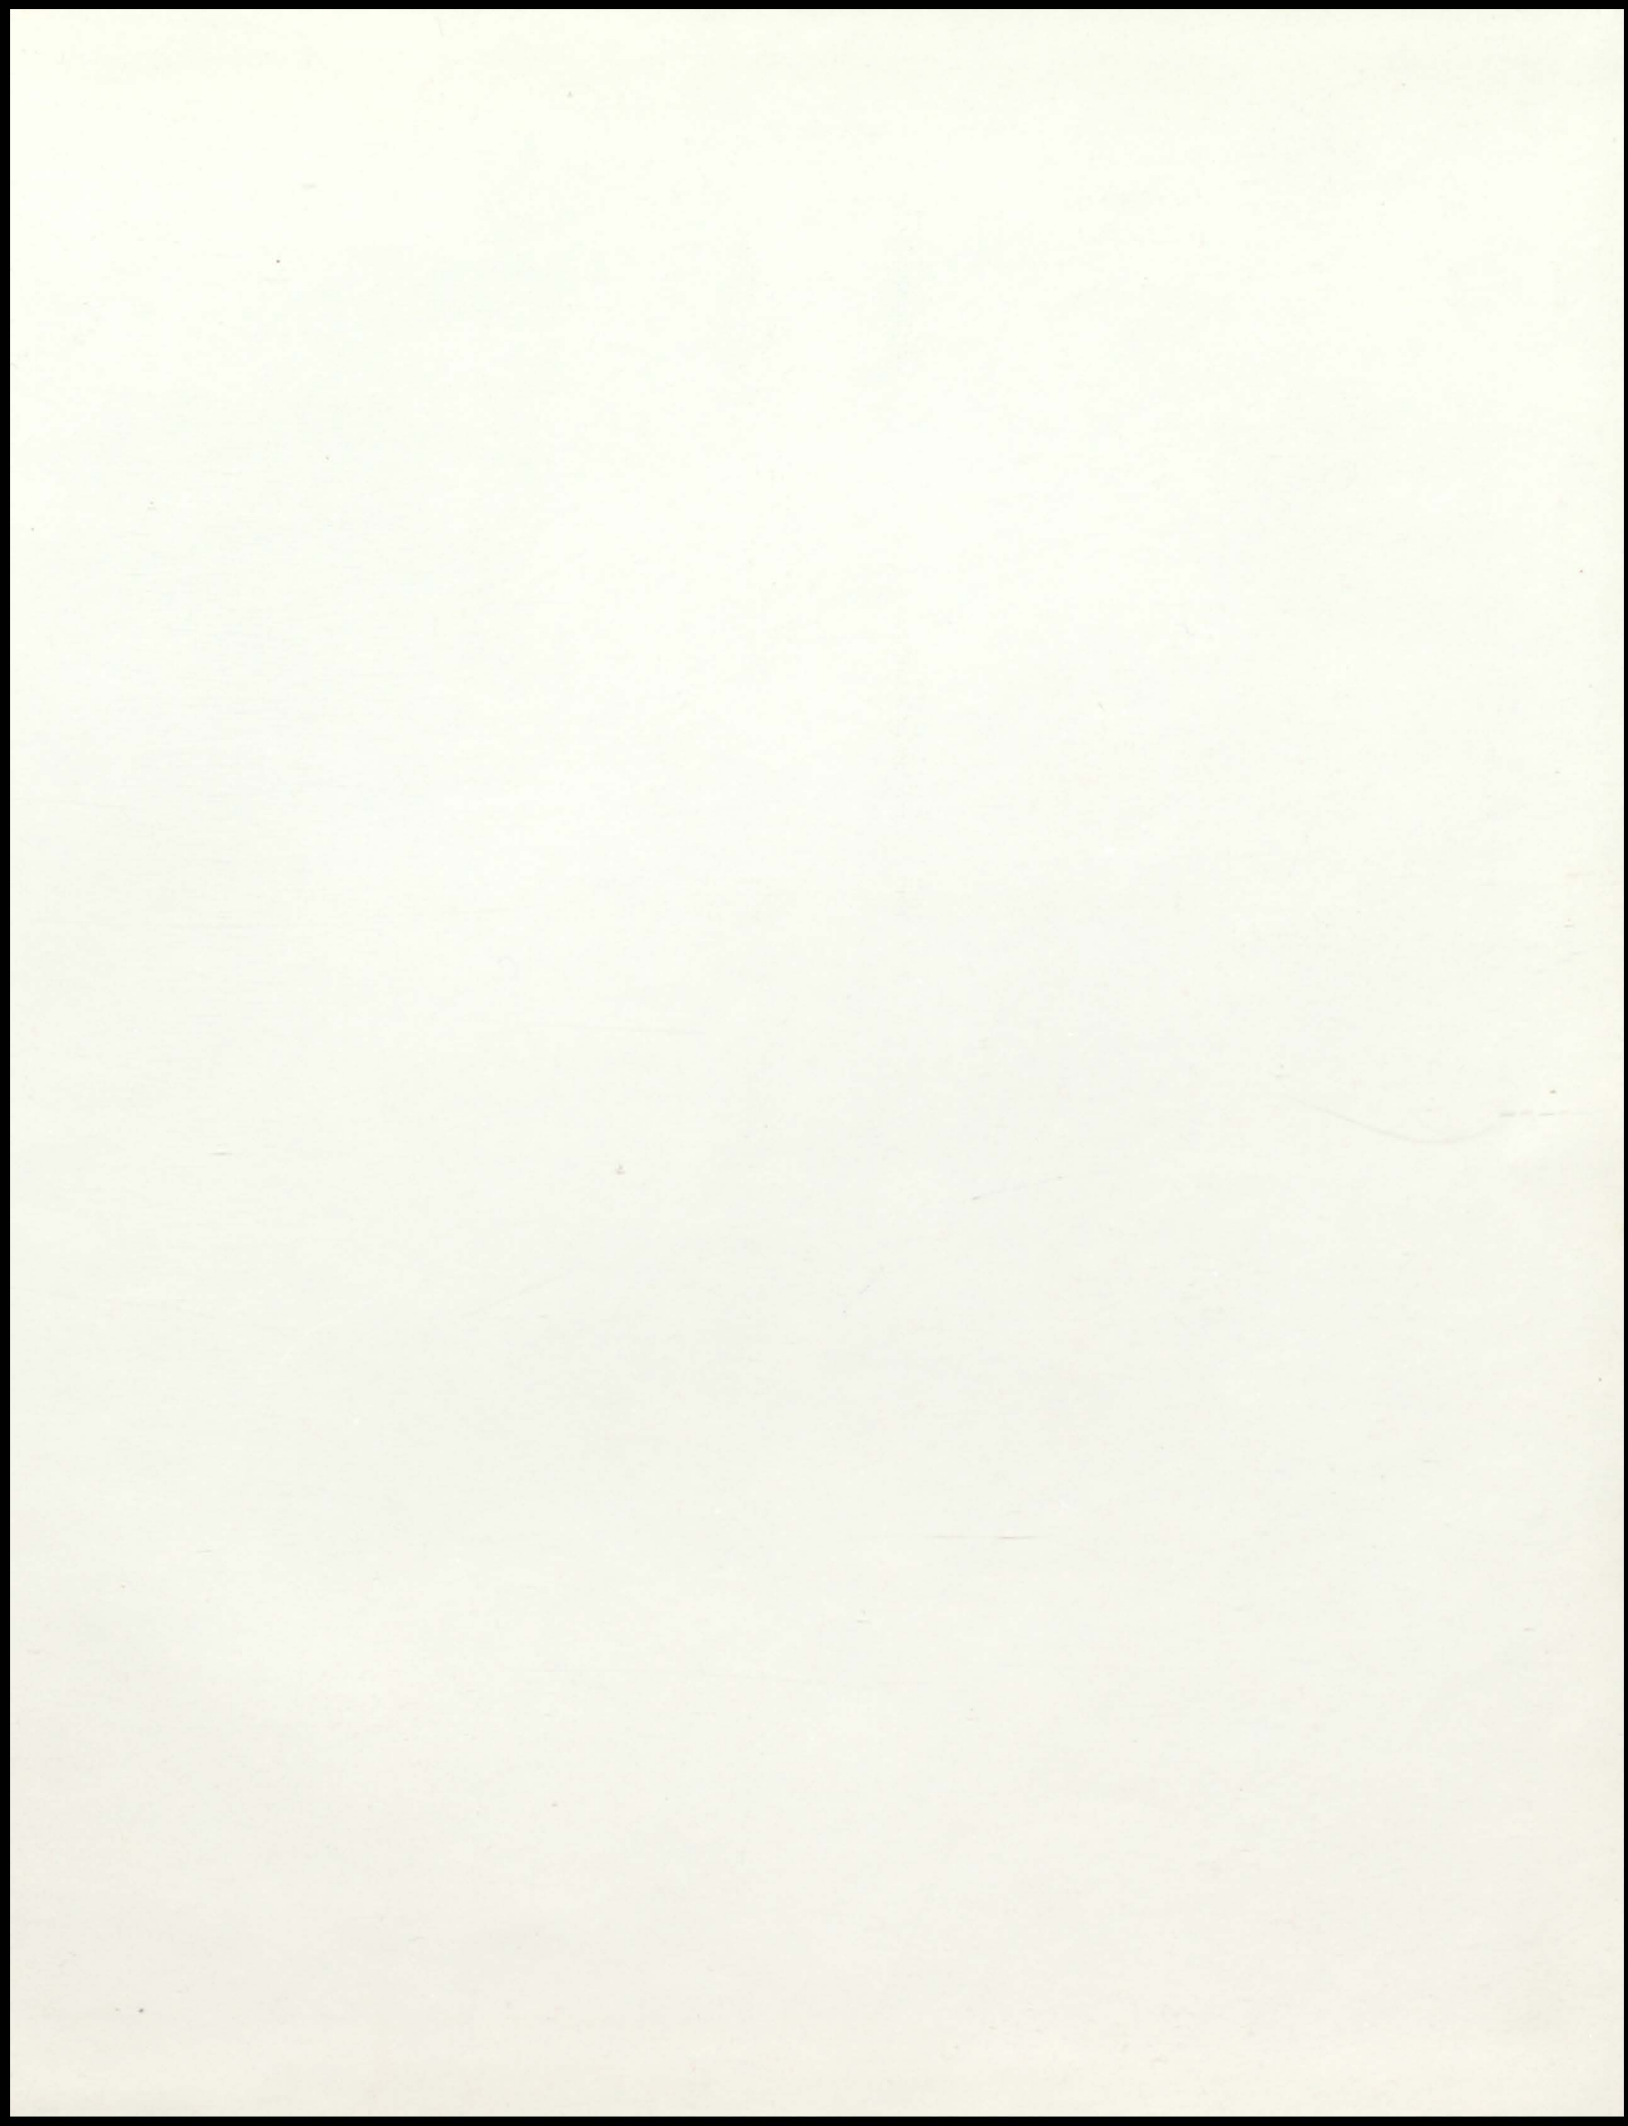

EXIT

We're Sergeant Pepper's
Lonely Hearts Club Band
We hope you have enjoyed the show
Sergeant Pepper's one and only Lonely Hearts Club Band
We're sorry but it's time to go.
Sergeant Pepper's lonely
Sergeant Pepper's lonely
Sergeant Pepper's lonely
Hearts
