

THE LAST HURRAH

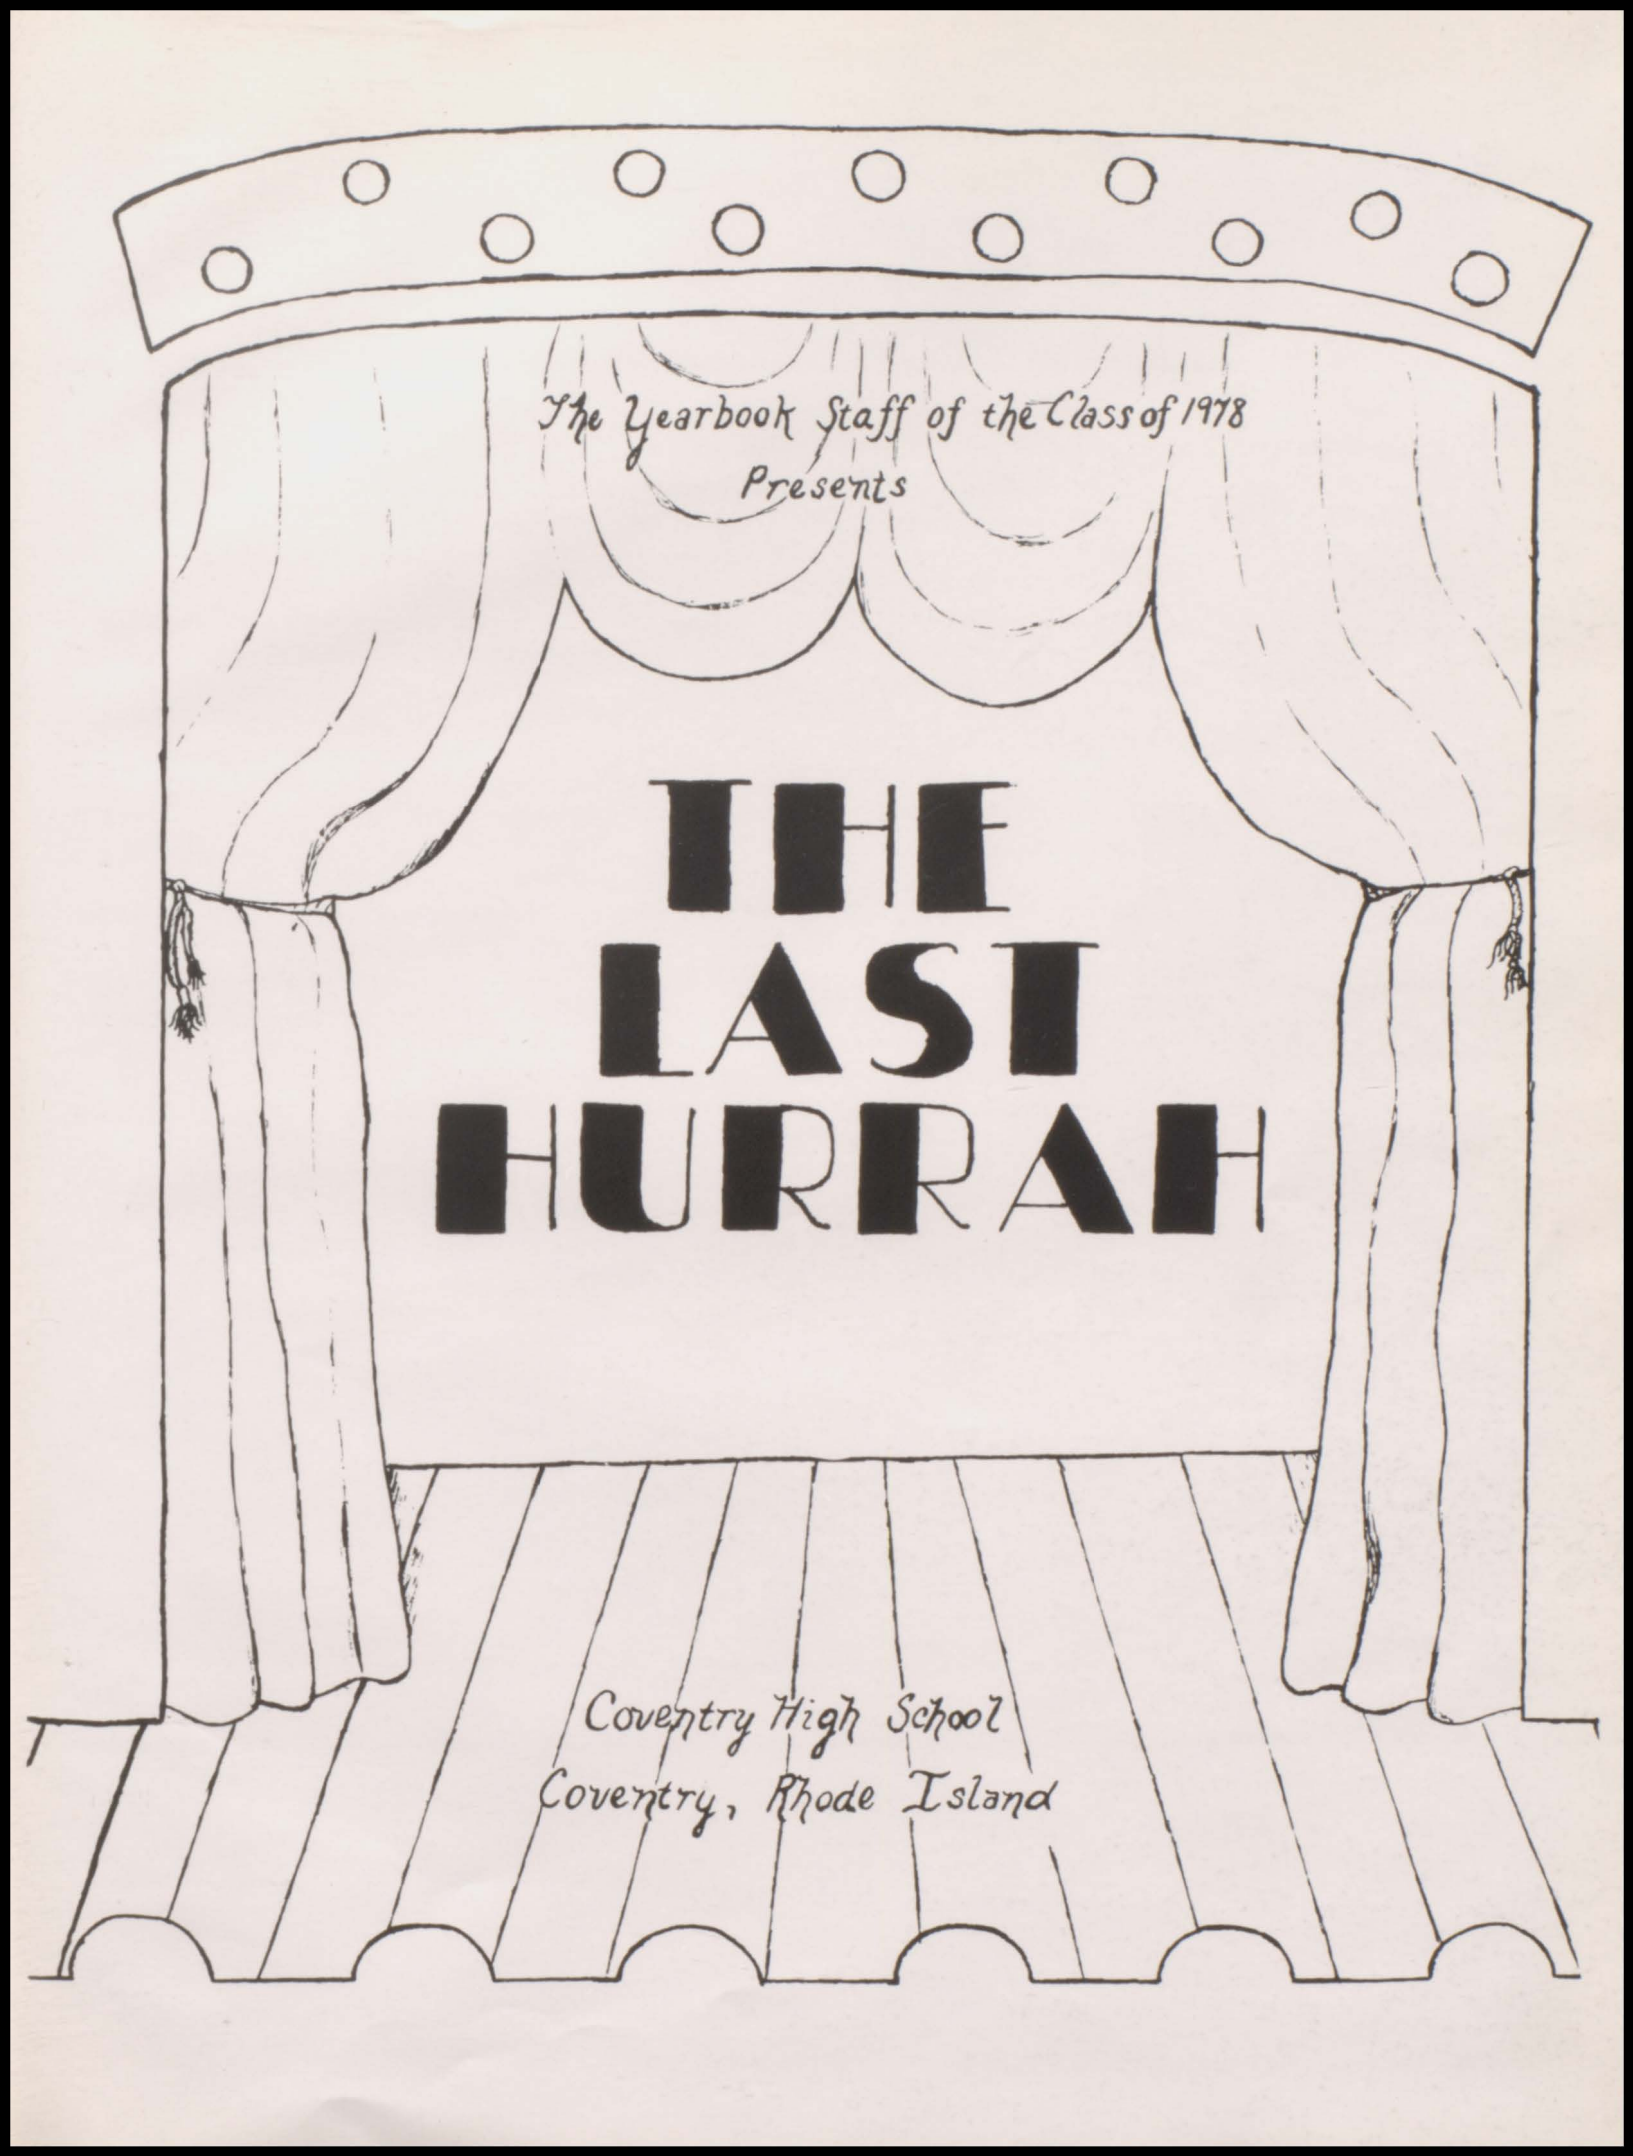

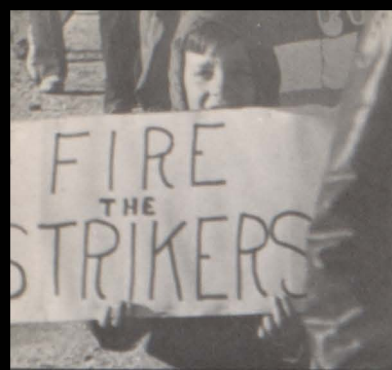

*The Yearbook Staff of the Class of 1978
Presents*

THE LAST HURRAH

*Coventry High School
Coventry, Rhode Island*

The photographs on this page represent the trauma that the Coventry School system has experienced in the past few years.

In 1976 - 77, severe budget cuts crippled the school system. Entire programs, sixty - five teachers, supplies, and all extracurricular activities were eliminated. Teachers conducted classes without the necessary materials; students suffered from the incomplete schedules and loss of sports and clubs. Education in the town was inadequate.

The students expressed their frustrations with such conditions in walkouts, demonstrations, and finally a Student Council march to the town house. After that march, the citizens voted back a full school budget.

Having limped through 1976 - 77, everyone involved in Coventry's School system looked forward to 1977 - 78 with great enthusiasm.

The beginning of that school year, however, was far from auspicious. The teachers went on strike, and the parents protested in return. Coventry witnessed not only organized picketing, but angry rallies and torch - lit marches. Insults were shouted across picket lines, police protection became necessary, and lawsuits and counterlawsuits were filed. It was three weeks into the school year before classes started.

Both of the situations brought out the worst in many of us. School administrators, faculty, students, town administrators, and taxpayers found little to agree upon. On all sides there was a lack of understanding, flexibility, and cooperation. Too often we closed our minds to other points of view and became polarized and obstinate. We acted as members of our separate groups - as teachers, students, or taxpayers - rather than working together as citizens of one community.

(Photographs courtesy of the Pawtuxet Valley Times)

As the photographs on the preceding page represent Coventry's trauma, these illustrate our triumph.

The strike is over, the budget is adequate, a new school committee is in office, classes are in session, all extracurricular activities have been reinstated. Coventry High School is full of spirit, strength, and enthusiasm.

If our past demonstrates our unwillingness to compromise our present shows that we can also be cooperative and appreciative. Hostilities expected in the schools after the strike never materialized - the students and teachers were glad to get back, ready to go to work.

All those involved in the school system hope this spirit will continue. We hope that town budget cuts and teacher strikes will never again turn the Coventry school system into the fiasco it has been these past few years.

The students are placing great trust, we hope not naively, in all those involved in the school system. We expect responsibility and flexibility from the town residents and teachers. We plan to participate in this community first by taking advantage of the education as students, then by taking responsibility for it as taxpayers.

We hope that the spirit of community continues, and that education prospers. The education of its youth is one of the most important duties of any community. The students of Coventry look forward to helping our community fulfill that duty.

Spend all you have for loveliness,
Buy it and never count the cost;
For one white singing hour of peace
Count many a year of strife well lost,
And for a breath of ecstasy
Give all you have been or could be.

- Sara Teasedale

Enough merely to be!
Enough to breath!
Joy! Joy! all over joy!

- Walt Whitman

The extraordinary adventure of the world will have ended in the bosom of a tranquil ocean, of which, however, each drop will still be conscious of being itself.

Teilhard de Chardin

The sea rolls easy and smooth.

Or the sea roars and goes wild.

The smell of clams and fish comes out of the sea.

The sea is nothing to look at unless you want to know something unless you want to know where you came from.

Carl Sandburg

When I have fears that I may cease to be
Before my pen has
gleaned my teaming brain,
Before high-piled books,
in charactry,
Hold like rich garnerers the full-ripened grain; . . .
-then on the shore
Of the world I stand
alone and think
Till love and fame to nothingness do sink.
- John Keats

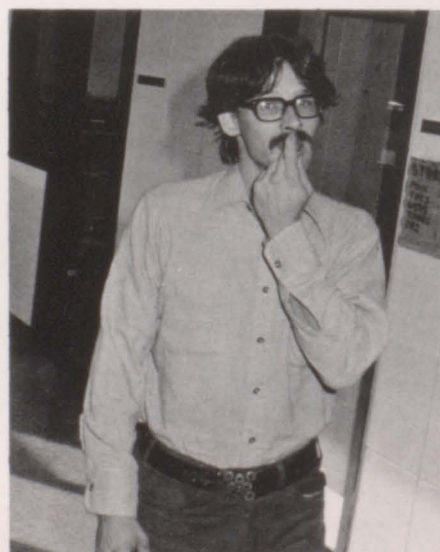

How dare you ask where the backspace is?

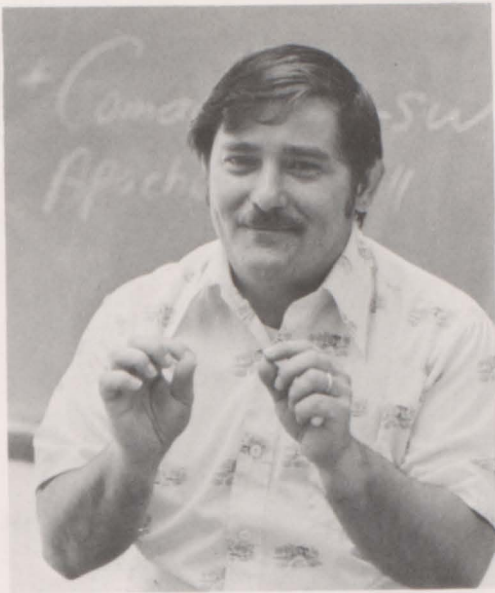

Now that's Duck Soup.

Ha,ha,ha! Now you can laugh all the way down to the office.

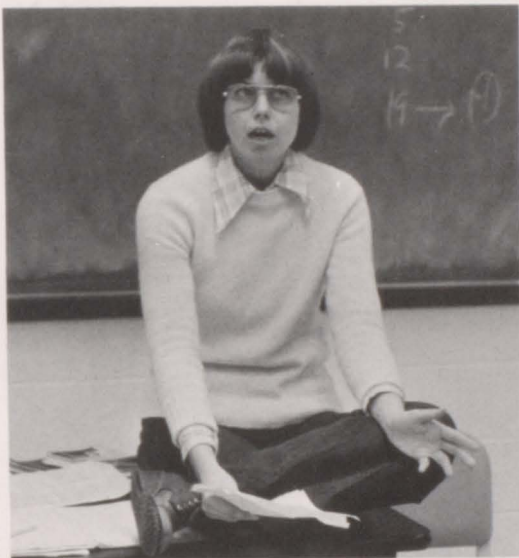

The first step in squeezing eyeballs.

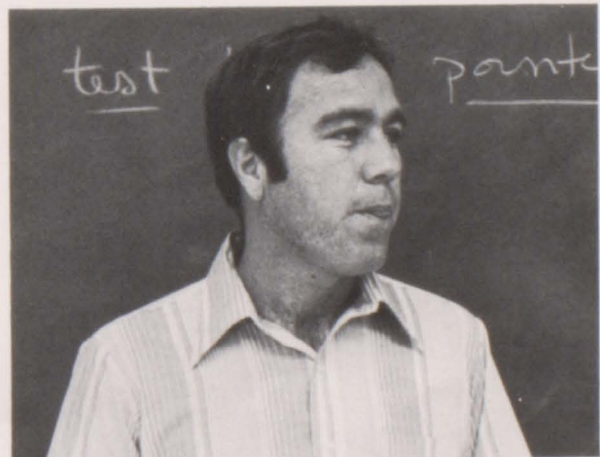

Well I know I left it in one of these books.

As I figure it, I have thirty-three more years of teaching to go.

You want a pass to WHERE?

SUPERINTENDENT THOMAS ROCHE

Dear Graduates:

It has been my pleasure to serve in various capacities in many school systems over the years. In all these years we have never seen students who have behaved as responsibly as have the students of the Coventry High class of 1978. No student body has been so directly mistreated by forces beyond their control as have you. Yet, you demonstrated a remarkably mature response to your adverse conditions.

Sincerely,

Thomas J. Roche

Thomas J. Roche
Superintendent of Schools

PRINCIPAL JAMES DIPRETE

I wish each member of the graduating class of 1978 a truly new and exciting beginning. I sincerely hope that as the years go by you will look back on your experiences at Coventry High as stimulating, enjoyable and memorable. The staff has attempted to give each graduate the knowledge and skills necessary to meet future challenges. Now you will be called upon to apply these experiences to a larger life. It is especially meaningful for me personally to wish you the very best since I have been privileged to know you and work with you during both trying and triumphant times.

In closing may courage, strength, peace and above all, faith "light up your life" as you commence.

Sincerely,

James A. DiPrete

SENIOR CLASS ADVISOR: Mrs. Robertson

Each year the Senior Class enters school with high hopes that their Class will be the best one ever. The Class of 1978, more than any other class, has endured the consequences of Coventry's school problems over the past several years. As juniors they worked hard to maintain a positive attitude, and they returned this year with the determination and enthusiasm necessary to become living evidence of the indomitable spirit of Coventry's students. My prayer is that God will richly bless each member of this class throughout this year and in all years to come.

Sincerely,

Joan R. Robertson

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT: Craig Sutton.

Congratulations! We are the first class to complete three successful years at our new high school. In these three years we have been faced with many conflicts, but our pride, determination, and tremendous school spirit have carried us through them all.

These conflicts are in the past and it is now time to look forward. I wish each and every one of you great success in attaining all your goals in life. I am proud to have been able to serve as president of the Class of '78.

Take care and good luck,

CLASS HISTORY

Writing our class history is a difficult task - there is so much to remember. So we decided to make it a group effort. We started off fairly slowly but then our memories came flooding back.

"Let's see ---- freshman year," began Jill. "I remember it was raining."

"Oh, excellent point!" someone cracked.

"Don't forget who you elected president." said Barbara Cagel remembering how she led our class thru our first high school year.

"Remember our advisor, Mrs. Lafond? She helped us with a .... a freshman something ...."

"Freshman fun night."

"We played volleyball and danced and ate."

"That really was fun."

"We were at the old school then weren't we?"

"Yeah, then the next year when we were in tenth grade we were still the youngest in the school. It was like we were on the bottom twice."

Wasn't it in tenth grade that the raccoon got into the electrical wires and blacked the whole school out?" asked Jill. "You remember the craziest things."

"Who was the president that year?"

"I remember — it was Debbie Healy."

"That was a good year. I remember I went to the Halloween Dance - it was crazy. I couldn't believe some of the costumes the kids were wearing."

"Sandy Kirschner and Debbie Healy dressed up as nuns." someone remembered.

We looked in an old yearbook and there they were in their habits next to Lisa Ryan who looked like a big orange pumpkin.

"Then we moved to the new school in November. That was chaos, no one knew where he was going."

"We started that year out well when we finally creamed West Warwick in the Thanksgiving Day game."

"I never saw so many people hugging each other all at once."

"Remember Darlene Ramsey was our last Homecoming Queen? Everyone was so proud that someone from our class was queen, even though we were only sophomores."

"I thought the Senior Varsity Review that year was the best production we ever had." someone decided.

"Mostly the seniors and juniors did it though."

"Uh-huh, but I think some of the sophomores did a few good acts."

"Chris Riccotti was a riot when he imitated Groucho Marx and sang 'Chatanooga Choo Choo'. And then he danced with a rubber chicken." We all laughed remembering it.

But we were serious soon again when someone mentioned the budget cuts of that year. None of us would know the full effect of the 1976 town meeting until we experienced our junior year. Besides the limited supplies and teachers there was speculation about the loss of such junior traditions as class rings and the junior prom. They would be difficult to arrange without a class advisor. But Mrs. Robertson worked with us and saw to it that we had a grand junior prom.

"Nearly everyone in our class was there. And Mo Bestwick looked so happy when she was crowned Prom queen."

"When the band took its break Craig Sutton and his friends sustained us with their jokes."

"What was the theme? — of yes, 'Miracles'. It seemed like a miracle we were able to have the prom," one girl mused.

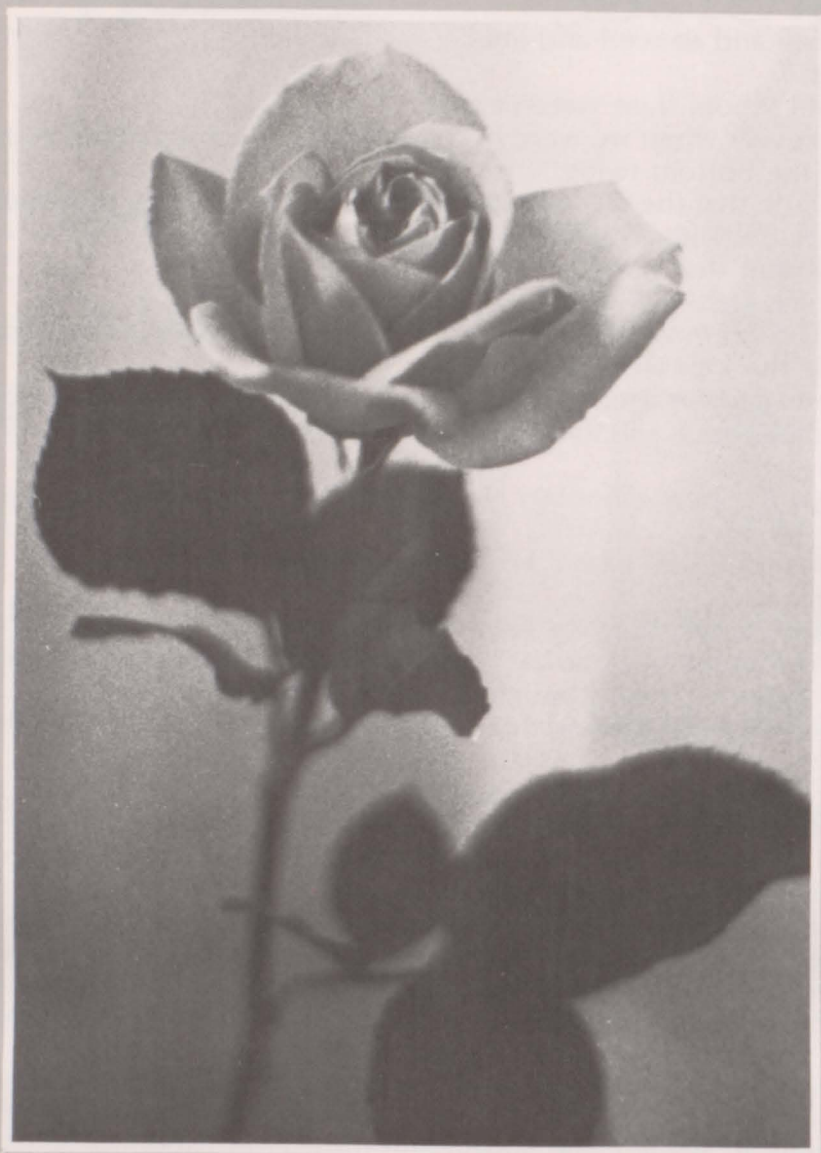

And thanks to Mrs. Robertson we were able to have class rings to turn around on class day when Mike Corrente handed the gavel to Craig Sutton.

Finally we were on top of the school and ready to face our year as seniors. But, because of the teachers strike, we started school three weeks late. Late in September classes were under way, thankfully, with no bitter feelings after that turbulent time.

And what a year this was to remember. We were kept busy with Student Council, sport events, club activities, dances, yearbook meetings, and caps and gowns.

Before we knew it we had graduated. It was hard to say goodbye, but we felt confident in leaving Coventry High School in the capable hands of future classes.

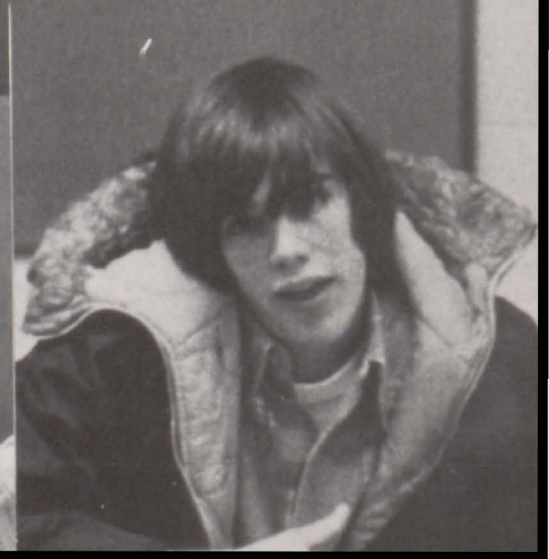

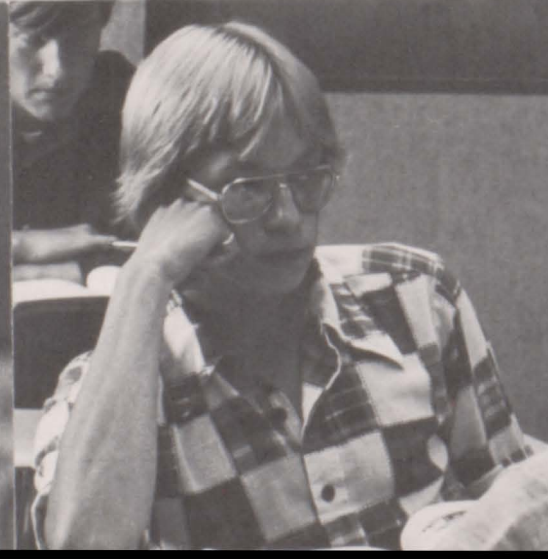

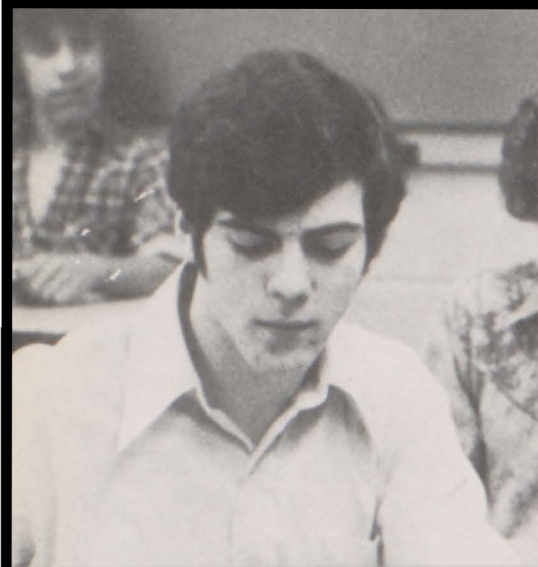

— You plunge, pour soul,
From time's colossal brink into that chasm
Of change and limbo and immortal flux;
And bring up only, in your blood-stained hands,
One grain of sand that sparkles. Plunge again,
Poor diver, among weeds and death! and bring
The pearl of brightness up. It is this instant
When all is well with us: when hell and heaven
Arch in a cloud of glory over madness;
When Pole Star sings to Sirius; and the wave
Of ultimate Ether breaks on ultimate Nothing.
The world's a rose which comes this night to flower;
This evening is its light. And it is we,
Who, with our harmonies and discords, woven
Of myriad things forgotten and remembered,
Urge the vast twilight to immortal bloom.
— Conrad Aiken
