IT'S ABOUT

TOGETHERNESS

"Along the Way"

Along the way I trust you'll look back and see
All the things that used to be
The times we shared
The times we cared
The times of trouble and how we fared
The days gone by
The days we cried
The days we reached, up for the sky
Along the way I trust you'll look back and see
All the things that used to be ...
And remember me.

Amanda LeClair

IT'S ABOUT

DEDICATION

"Look to the Future"

Don't look back.
Keep going ahead.
Forget the past.
What's said is said.

Slow it down.
And have some fun.
Let it go.
What's done is done.

You've made mistakes.
You'll make some more.
Nobody's perfect.
Even up the score.

Look to the future.
Take a stand.
Be whoever you are.
Be the best you can.

Junior Prom A Night To Remember

On Saturday, May 9, 1987, the Junior Prom was held at the Rocky Point Palladium. It was a spectacular night - warmed with a sky full of stars. Classmates were speechless as they admired their friends in elegant gowns and distinguished tuxedos.

After dinner, everyone danced to the music provided by Bob Robertson's "Entertainer". The theme of the prom was "For Just A Moment", also known as the "Love Theme to St. Elmo's Fire". The song played throughout the evening, and continued to play in our thoughts for a long time. The Juniors nominated Tracey Cantino, Linda Corriveau, Darlene Fish, Christine Gosselin, and Pamela Mertz for the prestigious title of Prom Queen. Although all of the nominees looked radiant, Christine Gosselin was crowned queen. Following the Coronation Dance, the Juniors danced and recorded a night of memories in their minds and in their hearts.

CLASS WILL

I
