

(say by about Friday), the effects of Monday Morning Syndrome can be quite devastating, especially with the addition of a first period test or an all period note session.

But fear not. There may be a way of trying to combat this dreaded ailment, aside from trying to pass legislation to outlaw Mondays. This relief comes in the form of walking. The people you see doing laps around the corridors are not in training for the spring track team. They are attempting to rid themselves of Monday Morning Syndrome. Many of these people also walk in groups to make note of any progress in their attempt.

In any case, it seems that the students will just have to become use to the afore mentioned effects. So far the only known cure for this problem is time ... or nodding off during third period study hall.

("... What do you mean there's no hot water?!")

— Allister Bryce

Our roving reporters interviewed several seniors and asked the following question - If you could paint love a color, what color would it you paint it and why?

Mike Dugas replied: "White because it is the absence of color, just as love is the absence of truth."

Maryanne Petrarca replied: "Gray, because nothing is black and white, especially in the affairs of love."

Juniors

Specie:
Habitat:

Junior Studenticus
Junior studenticus ranges from the east to the west coast. These colorful mammals are often cited in libraries or their known nesting zone, the stereo equipped bedroom.

Notes:

Junior studenticus, otherwise known as the Common Car-driving Nose-in-a-book, can be found across the United States. This species comes in many different styles and colors of plumage. The known mating call has been described as a cross between a war whoop and the rap phrase "Bust a move." Junior studenticus can often be seen toting books in ripped and overflowing backpacks while sending preliminary information to colleges in distant nesting ranges.

Boxers or Briefs

The fashion debate of the year for people all over the U.S.A. has been the immortal question, "Boxers or briefs?" For juniors at CHS the overwhelming reply to this timely fashion query was briefs. Does this percentage prove CHS to be deeply rooted in the tradition of the cotton brief? Are the minority of boxer-wearers searching for a nouveau fashion dare? No one can say as most students keep their P's and Q's and their BVD's to themselves.

Pets

Owning a pet and going to high school at the same time presents some interesting problems. First, in the early morning hours, dogs are not always willing to be walked. Dragging man's best friend down the driveway at dawn is certainly a trying experience. Of course, the direct opposite is true. You could be comatose while Rover is extremely frisky and willing to play. Overall the responsibility is upon yourself. Feel free to wrangle family members into helping you. But when the weekend comes, your pet is yours to take to the beach. Then let your pet go, if you're lucky it will go to any person present. This is also a great way to meet guys and girls.

Money Matters, or Does It

The majority of the juniors spend twenty dollars a week. In second place was ten, with thirty following in third place. These were reasonable amounts which normal people generally spend. However, in fourth place was $100, an amazing amount of money for people who make only $5.50 an hour. Chasing fourth closely was fifty dollars. There were, however, some frugal people in the class of '92 who spent one or two dollars a week. To the person who spent exactly $24.35 every week, I suggest you join Shoppers Anonymous and get rid of the Home Shopping Network.

Junior Dynasty Demise

Among other things the junior year signifies initiation into a hellish year of projects and homework. For the class of '92, however, there have been some interesting developments that should affect their future. After many a year the famous or should I say the infamous junior dynasty has met its demise. The Pike-Pike-

DiMicco team has been broken. At the present time, the chain is now Pike-Spillane-DiMicco. Many students wonder if this is a definite improvement, but for better or worse students must still face the facts. The junior year at CHS is a demanding, stressful year, no matter who the teachers are.

T.V. Picks

Cheers was again the overwhelming favorite of the junior class in the battle for favorite sitcom. Running a not so close second was the tale of a degenerate rapper in posh California a.k.a. Fresh Prince of Bel Air. Tied for third were Night Court and The Wonder Years, shows about folks acting in court and getting caught in the act. Who's the Boss rounded out in third position, apparently Tony isn't at the head of the class. In last place was the tale of a rebel teen who's out to make adults look like fools - Ferris Bueller. Other interesting picks were Ferris' Fox counterpart, Parker Lewis, and an oldie moldy, I Dream of Jeanie.

Construction

"Clear everything off your desks for a quiz except for something to write with." As you begin to concentrate, a loud rumble shatters the silence. A giant earth mover jars the ground as it moves by the window. Whether you like it or not, you are witnessing the construction of the new wing of Coventry High School. Of course, if you are lucky enough to have a window seat, you can watch the exciting step by step process of pouring cement. This form of classroom entertainment offers a different alternative to drifting off to sleep in class. Although there are many temporary inconveniences, the new wing should provide greatly needed new rooms, and alleviate the overcrowding.

Why Do People Look at the Ceiling

The most popular answer to this little thought about question was to avoid cheating. This would seem to be quite encouraging in regard to the status of CHS student body honesty factor. In second place was because there is no place to look. Make's sense to me! Third place was held by "to think of the answer" which would seem to be the obvious choice. In fourth was "it turns the brain over." This practice begun in 2 BC apparently flips the brain to dump the answers out. A tie for fifth place was secured by "to clear their minds" and also the wish that the ceiling would turn into a mirror so at least you could look good.

To Drive or Not To Drive

What an embarrassment, being dropped off by mommy at another social function. Mom leans over to give me a good-bye kiss, no, not here, not in front of everyone. As if having a license isn't bad enough, I must suffer this public humiliation too. Not having a license also hinders my social life.

Due to my own inability to drive; mom and dad are made aware of my every move. I have friends who drive, but my parents are suspicious of everything I do without parental transportation. It just doesn't seem "cool" to be dropped off at a party by mommy. To me, it's kind of an unspeakable shame, not exactly the way to get into the "popular" clicks.

How cool does one seem, who waits for a ride home for about three hours after school? Answer-not very! If I engage in one more little chat with some freshman about Saturday morning cartoons, or in a debate with some high I.Q. student over the standard of living in foreign nations, I may have to hurt someone. This however, is the situation I experience everyday! Yes, I sit in the cafeteria with a few random acquaintances, anxiously awaiting mommy's arrival. These days of what seems like an unbearable "torture" have led me to an irrational extreme . . . driver's education. Here, begins thirty-three of the most boring hours of my life, leading to the even more desired goal, the license to drive.

Past? Lives.

The top five past lives of juniors at CHS were as follows:

1. Elvis
2. God
3. George Washington
4. the Pope
5. a rock

In addition to this motley crew Ghandi, Bruce Lee, and John Lennon were mentioned. Two people claimed to be Bob (of Twin Peaks fame?) and one insisted that she was an Indian princess of the Nez Perce. Well, I guess at CHS it doesn't matter whether your Ned the sheepherder or Smurfette just as long as you show up for class.

Gym

For most students, Gym is one easy class of the day. Apart from the changing and sweating parts, it can actually be fun. At Coventry High School, students are offered a number of alternatives for activities in Gym. Newly initiated this year is games. Although the teachers explained what this entails (handball and floor hockey), many students speculate as to what this actually means. Whatever happens, it is sure to be a great substitute for square dancing. Depending upon the activity, Gym can be one of the most relaxing periods of the day or one of the most taxing experiences of the day.

Paradise Found?

Vacation. Say the word- let it roll off your tongue. Many juniors may claim that this word is the most priceless in the world. Through endless seas of term papers and oodles of 200 question exams, the juniors waded in order to reach their nervana vacation. To these stressed-out and sleep deprived students vacation means one thing SLEEP! When asked where they would like to spend their dream vacation the majority answered Hawaii. The beautiful land of white beaches and palms was followed closely by Europe and the Bahamas. One poor soul who was obviously studying for a U.S. geography quiz stated Delaware as his dream land. Whether you wish for Walla-Walla or you pine for Pennsylvania, vacations are a well deserved and needed rest.

*Late last night as I flew into the never-ending void
I thought of you.
Trying to hold onto a sigh
I was enveloped by the blackness but I raced on.
My thoughts were extinguished as I hit the boundary of the void which shattered.
The shards fell depicting fragments of my broken life.
I was cut and the blood I bled was wine too sweet for mortal tongues to taste.
As I uttered the death cry of the last living star
I felt you clasp my hand but I fell ...
you were too late.*

Sophomores

MARINELLI

Sophomore: definition- wise fool. Think about it, your not a freshman any longer, you thought you had the routine down BUT . . . Disaster strikes again. this year you learn that most repulsive of words, "term paper" and others like "driver's ed" and "honors program". You soon learn what your older brothers and sisters were whining about all these years. You actually have to work in High School! Go figure! So just when you think you know it all you find out that you really were just fooling yourself. So stop fooling around and get down to work and before you know you're a junior. And you thought the work was over — guess again. Apparently the guy who said lightening never strikes twice was also a wise fool.

Boxer Rebellion

The latest fashion trend has not taken the Sophomore Class by storm. Only 38 per cent of the persons taking part in our interview claim to be part of the Boxer Rebellion. A whopping 62 per cent of the class said that they were not influenced by this new trend. Apparently the Class of 93 is not easily swayed by the moguls of Madison Avenue and must be applauded for their individuality.

Getting a License

As a new driver there are several things you must suffer through. First of all, before actually receiving the license, you must go through the ordeal of actually staying awake during 30 hours of driver's ed. After completing this dreaded course, the road test awaits you. Stories of the horrible things the "fat man" makes a driver do result in sweaty palms on the most important day of your teen life. As you hand this demigod your permit, he mutters some inaudible phrases, which baffle you completely. You tensely say, "What?" as your heart starts racing. So he repeats his instructions and orders you to take a left. But you think.

Getting a License II

"I'm in the middle of the parking lot; where do I go left?" After a few thoughtful moments, you putter to the exit of the parking lot and take the first left. Soon after successfully completing 3 turns you start to think that you have done it — you've made it through the test! Then just in time to spoil your jubilation, the feared giant orders you to pull along the curb and back up in a straight line. Your worst nightmare has come true! You think to yourself, "God, please, please don't let me hit the curb!" Finally you finish the test and when you return to school you coolly tell your friends that the test was a breeze. However, in actuality, you just passed the test by one point and had vowed to never return to school again had you not passed!

Sophomoric Vegetation

Sophomores do not realize how much spare time they actually have until they ascend to their junior year. They spend much of their time "vegetating", or doing nothing at all. The pressures of SAT's and achieving good grades for college have not yet struck. Thus, it's perfectly alright to spend lots of time doing absolutely nothing. The classic state of vegetation is arrived at when a blank stare crosses the face and the eyes are unblinking. No recognition of outside stimuli is made and the body goes limp. As "wise fools" sophomores know how to make adequate use of their spare time while it lasts.

Fashion

Many students at Coventry High School totally ignore the rules of fashion. This is especially difficult because in today's world almost anything goes. Still there are a few persons who shall remain nameless that violate every code in the book. they persist on wearing bright colored spandex shorts under ripped jeans. New Kids On The Block and Simpsons T-shirts are far too common in the school as are those persons who insist on wearing sweat pants and sweaters. Finally, the ultimate faux pas is committed by those people who wear winter coats indoors all day when it is not cold. Although there are a few people who don't look good, most students dress well.

Two at a Table

Isn't it just so annoying that when you finally get out of study hall (if you can understand your own name when the teacher calls it) you get to the library and hear the cry, "Two to a table, please." Of course the group you are with is always an odd number. One of you has to sit at a table with someone they don't even know. But what I don't understand why we cannot sit more than two at a table when we are going to talk any way. It's not like it will be any different with two or four at a table, because if someone has a friend half way across the library that they want to talk to they will find a way to talk to them. Well, I guess rules are rules and must be obeyed.

Crystal Power

Your running down the hall, trying desperately to reach your destination before the bell rings, when suddenly you slam into a calmly strolling pier who seems to have no concern regarding this race to class. A small object hanging around the person's neck twinkles as you realize the reason for her carefree nature. It is CRYSTAL POWER! Crystals have invaded as of late along with their close cousins, bubble pendants. Crystals, say those who wear them, have the amazing capability of creating a sense of ease and well-being for the wearer. Bubble pendants create the same happy feelings.

Crystal Power, Part II.

The owner of a crystal enables his or herself to give their own private utopia while the rest of the world must scurry about aimlessly. The secret to crystal power is the simple concept of blind faith. You must believe in the small fragment of rock and its powers. Many people seem to be skeptics, but as for me I am building a multi-colored collection - I need all the stress management help can get!

Previous Lives

In our survey we asked the Sophomores if they had a previous life, who were they. According to our statistics, most Sophomores, a resounding 68.2% flatly stated that they had not had a previous existence. Of the 31.8% respond-

Sophomore Joys

The Sophomore year is a transition one. We are no longer the bottom of society, having experienced that trauma last year, and we not expected to assume positions of leadership, that can wait another year or two. Academically, a little more is expected of us, but we can still relax a little and enjoy ourselves. The full academic crunch lies ahead in the Junior year. Being a Sophomore is akin to having the best of both worlds. We are expected to show some maturity and self-discipline, however, if we act adolescent and little gitty, we will get a few frowns, and people will say, "after all they are Sophomores and still have time to grow and to learn about the world." Yes, these are the joys of being a Sophomore.

Freshmen

Freshman. The very sound of the word is diminutive. When a freshman enters the high school his entire life is altered. Speeding down endless hallways only to find them blocked off the next week and trying to desperately to decipher the secret code of CHS lockers is enough to drive the most confident freshman wild. The first gym class is always an experience. Tw hundred and fifty students in the gym all wanting to play the same sport, usually Volleyball, can be discouraging, especially to Freshman who must pick last. Then there are classes and probably the most homework you've ever seen in your life. But take heart you will survive. Just think all the confident seniors were freshman once (and will be again next year). By the way never turn your locker combination exactly to the number- that's the secret.

Fashion Trends

The survey results are in and have been tabulated. With 224 freshmen responding, our results clearly indicate that the Class of 1994 had not been captivated by the hottest fashion trend of the year. Only 31 per cent of the freshmen stated that they were part of the Boxer Rebellion. Our survey indicates that freshmen remain objective and are not swayed by slick advertising. Check the other sections of the book to see how your class compared with the rest of CHS! Congratulations on being individualists, not followers of a trend.

Waiting for Wheels

It is embarrassing being driven to places at your parents convenience with Beethoven's 5th Symphony playing in mom's old station wagon. Your friends look at you strangely when your parents say, "Pick you up in an hour," but your friends send you an understanding smile as they reminisce about the days their parents transported them places, embarrassing them. Everybody's been there and life without a driver's license is not the easiest thing in the world to overcome. -the young one

Why The Ceiling?

When asked why do students look up at the ceiling during exams, the sophomores replied with the following answers. "It helps one to think about the answers." "By looking at the ceiling, the teachers know that we cannot be cheating." "It gives me something to do, when I do not know what the answer is."

"Maybe the answers are on the ceiling." Students who replied in this manner added: "we hope that God will come to our aid if we look up toward heaven." If you want to see how your answers compared with the other classes, check the survey results in the other sections of the book.

Spectating

CHS students have many sporting events to attend. The annual Coventry-West Warwick football game is one of the most intense rivalries, and with State championship volleyball and wrestling teams, who could ask for more? Being a spectator is a great way to get together and show school spirit. Enthusiasm runs so high sometimes that students lose their voices from cheering. But, bitter losses have been known to spark deep bouts of depression. At C.H.S., "the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat" is very evident.

Does money matter to Freshman?

According to our survey results, the Freshmen Class has some unique monetary habits. Believe it or not, 6% spend absolutely no money in the course of the week. Please tell us how you do it! Even better, tell the government how this can be done. On the other hand 7% claim that they spend more than $500 on a weekly basis. The majority of the class (45%) spends under $10, while 25% spends under $20. Finally 17% of the Freshman class spends under $50 with the other students spending from $100-500. Check the other sections of the book to see how your spending habits compare with the rest of CHS.

Study Hall

Study Hall is the best place to get your homework done. Without this very important period, many CHS students would be out of luck and their grades would suffer. The many we are referring to are those students who race from class to jobs that begin immediately at 2 pm and may last until 11 pm.

For many of these students, their job is a necessity and without that valuable study period, they would have to make a choice between homework and their job! For some, the economic necessity of their job would force them to set homework aside. Sad, but true.

According to our survey, the members of the Freshmen Class led interesting former lives. Most of them claim to have been sports figures, ranging from Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth, Jessie Owens, and Roberto Clemente. A small minority felt that they had been rocks, mountains, and animals. Most Freshmen, however, did not feel that they had a former life. Some of the interesting responses were Joan of Arc, Marilyn Monroe, Elvis Presley, Mighty Mouse and King Tut. Check the other sections of the book to see how your imagination compares with the rest of CHS.

Favorite Pastimes

Passing time, wasting time, killing time. These are all expressions used to describe what CHS students do with their free time (as if we had any!). When in the process of trying to manage time many people include pastimes such as basketball, baseball, soccer, and watching TV. Have you noticed a pattern here? All these activities are based on periods of time. Even pastimes like sleeping and reading take time. The very music we listen to may be in 4/4 time (ask a band member). Our roving reporters discovered that shopping is the most popular way to spend time.

Homecoming Dance

The Homecoming Dance for 1990 took place on October 5th. It began promptly at 8 pm in the CHS gym and lasted until 11 pm.

This dance proved to be the most school spirited dance in many years. Hosted by KICKS 106, everyone in the crowd "bopped till they dropped!" To add excitement to this successful event, some great dancers assembled and strutted their stuff in the center of a circle dance while everyone watched. The evening proved to be very exciting and was a fitting start to a wonderful Homecoming Weekend.

Coppa-isms

Many sophomores will attest to the fact that no day is complete without those immortal words, "Good morning students of chemistry, Coppa is my name and I would like to think chemistry is our collective game." To "aces" and "superstars", "the business of chemistry" is "duck soup", but to others "what we have here is a failure to communicate." Throughout the year "shdoodents" witness a series of videos where the star "Phil" performs some intriguing experiments without a doubt, "mankind rejoices that one so great has existed."

Coppa-isms Part II

Now, for your own edification "yoo might want to take" "copius notes", so you can take tests "colder than iced mackrel." But remember to "absolutely, positively, unequivocally" take a long "haitus" sometime during the year. In your spare time be sure to try Mr. Coppa's graceful tennis wobble or his skillful golf swing. And if you're ever on the golf course (or hunting through his desk) watch out for his "mole." These Coppa-isms certainly make for entertaining chemistry classes throughout the year. "Da, da, da, da, da, da."

The Freshman Syndrome

The Freshman Syndrome is a disease that strikes every teenager in their first year of high school. Its symptoms may include: chronic shortness, occasional disorientation in the hallways, loss of memory (particularly about the days schedule), and sometimes being mistaken for a punching bag. There is only one cure for this disease, growing up. In a more optimistic mood, the disease is not that bad because everyone has to go through it.

A Freshman's Point of View

After I was dropped off to find my way through the jungle we call Coventry High School, my first thought was "What did I ever do that was so bad to deserve this?" As I walked through the hallways, I saw confused faces and people that looked as scared as I was. I finally found my homeroom and tried to look casual as I walked in five minutes late. By the end of the day I was relieved to go home, but I had to admit high school was not as bad as I had thought it would be.

Faculty

Did you ever wonder who is responsible for knowledge? According to Einstein, "It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge."

The faculty at C.H.S. is irreplaceable; their dedication has helped the students to grow not only intellectually but also individually. Unfortunately our teachers are not appreciated to the extent that they should be. So, we would like to take this opportunity to say "Thank you" to all the faculty members at C.H.S. Your efforts are truly appreciated.

Dear Graduates of the Class of 1991:

It is with much pleasure that I congratulate you as you bring to a close your secondary school career at Coventry High School. We fervently hope that each graduate has learned much and enjoyed his/her classroom experiences and many other extra-curricular offerings which the Coventry citizens had provided through your Alma Mater. You must be aware of the fact that Coventry High School has earned much praise and respect because of your accomplishments and because of the dedication and extra effort expended by your teachers. Coventry High students are referred to as "Oakers". The oak is a solid, durable tree which is known for its strength and variety. We hope that your journey through life will be fortified by the strength and charity to serve others and that your experiences will be rich with satisfaction and happiness. God bless you!

Operation Desert Storm

Since a yearbook is a memory book, we the staff of The Knotty Oak felt it was necessary to capture the mood of CHS's faculty at the onset of the Persian Gulf War. What follows are some of the reactions and feelings toward the conflict. "Unfortunately, it was necessary." - Ms. Corso. "No one likes war, we had no other choice." - Mrs. DiPrete. "I don't think we should be there. We should have waited longer." Mr. Short. "I'm against war basically . . . I hope we get out of there soon." - Mr. Stoutzenberger. "War goes against logic and reason. It is frightening. Having been in one, I know of what I speak. However, in some situations, such as this, it is necessary." -Mr. Piascik.

We, the Knotty Oak Staff, support our troops and hope and pray for their speedy and safe return home and a peaceful world.

"In with the New ... "

Due to the abundance of retirements last year, there was an infusion of new blood in September of 1990. The one thing I can definitely tell you about the new teachers is that they are all extremely busy people. For example, Miss. Abbott spends much time skiing, mountain biking, and doing volunteer work. Interests of others include baseball, hiking, astronomy, and reading.

Over all, all the new teachers felt that Coventry High was what they expected it to be and more. In fact Mr. Stoutzenberger states, "The kids here are more open and friendly and the teachers are supportive".

When asked who they most admired in life, the response was more of a description than a single person. Mr. Belanger looks up to the type of teacher who is able to teach and have students who still remember the material. Mr. Perreault felt that the people who are not well known but still do great things deserve the most respect and admiration.

Of course, what's an interview without a killer question? "Where do you feel our country is headed in the next few decades?" A number of the new teachers felt that the U.S. is in a decline but should eventually come around. Mr. Horent suggested that space should be explored as an alternative for living because humans will eventually use Earth up. As for Mr. Brissette, he says that there are three types of people: those who lead, those who follow, and those who get out of the way. Right now too many get out of the way therefore our country is headed in a downward spiral. But, should more people become leaders, this country will succeed.

There you have it, straight from the sources, the whole truth from a new perspective.

Miscellaneous Teacher Info

We had a lot of copy space so I decided to perform a little survey of the teachers at our illustrious school. The majority of the teachers questioned revealed that they assign thirty minutes to an hour of homework per night per student on the average.

Now to probe teachers' inner thoughts, they were asked what their favorite movie of the 90-91 school year was. A great many responded that they loved Dances With Wolves. Other favorites include Silence of the Lambs, Ghost, Internal Affairs, Pretty Woman, and Total Recall. The one foreign film mentioned was Cinema Paradiso.

The last task assigned to the teachers was to name their one dream job. The sport loving teachers named such athletic jobs as being center for the Boston Celtics, playing shortstop for the L.A. Dodgers, or being a professional mountain bike racer. Additional jobs that were mentioned include being an accountant, Saddam Hussein's body guard, travel agent, flowerist, the moderator on Life Styles of the Rich and Famous, a musician (saxophone), and a professional jello wrestler.

Basically, all I have to say after conducting these interviews is that the teachers have very weird but fascinating minds. Of course, if our teachers were not a bit odd, then the students at CHS would have a pretty dull life.

What is Calculus?

No, we're not on Jeopardy!, we're in F-period Calculus class presided over by Mr. Francis Short, of the "Bermuda Shorts". Among the more popular topics covered in the class are determining the rate at which the shadow of a garage door (partially open) approaches said garage, making a Christmas present box with the most volume possible, and finding the least amount of fencing required to enclose a herd of non-swimming cattle along a river. Also covered in the class is the Short family tree, including his uncle, the only well known relative not living in Bermuda. This man is legendary for a vast knowledge that would run circles around Alex Trebek and for the fact that he has not left his yard in the past twenty years (The last time was to help a neighbor make fence repairs).

What Do They Do?

Have you ever wondered what our educators do after 1:40 p.m. every afternoon (besides detention)? Do they go out and party? A little hard to imagine? Yes! Yet for our teachers who live in town, we see them every so often doing average, ordinary things, such as grocery shopping, or in the library (a place where most students expect to find teachers). Seriously, have you ever seen your favorite English teacher jammin' to the beat at Bahama Bob's? No, I didn't think so, but think about it .....

Sports

A large part of the average student's life is spent on the hard benches in foreign schools across the state. This is the life of an athlete at CHS; a role that many thoroughly enjoy. To be an athlete at CHS a student must not only be in great physical but mental shape. In order to keep up with school work, the athlete must often do homework on the bus ride to the designated field of play.

While trying to finish Chapter 38 of Moby Dick without becoming seasick, the student athlete must contort himself into positions befitting a yoga master in order to keep all his books balanced on that minute bus seat. After surviving this ordeal, the athlete must then play "hard and well", go home, and try to get enough sleep to do it all again the very next day! For this torture they are put through, CHS athletes should clearly be commended.

Boys' Volleyball

What words can accurately describe a team which achieved the greatest goal in high school sports? The Oaker Boys' Volleyball team did just that by winning the Rhode Island State Championship. The words dazzling, exciting, and spectacular come to mind when speaking of the Oaker spikers. Led by senior tri-captains Chris "Scoota" Byrnes, Artie Schloth, and Mike Simoneau, Coventry dominated throughout the volleyball season. A three game sweep of Toll Gate in the state finals was a fitting finish to a truly superb season. With starters David Riley, Evan Noel, and Ron Pelletier returning along with a crew of talented reserves which include Travis Diggs, Eric Hazen, Steve Giguere, and Kevin Conde, Coach Sutton's team looks to once again control Rhode Island High School Volleyball.

Football

Strange as it may seem, the Oakers' winless season on the gridiron was not a total disappointment. As the year wore on, fans and sportswriters began to observe an increase in intensity and performance, especially on the defensive side. Coach O'Donnell and his staff will truly miss the efforts of seniors Jamie Lukowicz, Scott Osterman, and captains Brian Mitchell and Brian Coburn, but a talented corps of underclassmen will provide the Oakers with a strong team for the future. Juniors Steve Morris, John Bigden, and Glen Gustafson along with sophomore sensations Kevin Sullivan, Scott Pietrzyk, and Greg Blanchette will look to lead the Oakers to victory in coming seasons.

Shoeless Joe

Boys' Basketball

This year the Oaker Basketball Team had an eventful season participating in the Class A play-offs. The season had its ups and downs, but among the highlights were several exciting victories before the home crowd and a triumphant sweep of the Christmas Tournament. Despite the supreme efforts of Kevin "Bingo" Feeley, Chris "Scoota" Byrnes, Darrin Marinelli, and Ryan Clarke, the Oakers lost a heartbreaker to Mount Pleasant in the first round of the State play-offs. However, next year if Brian McGovern (one of the state's premier players), Sean Hogan, Eric Hazen, Larry Chase, David Ritz, Chris Manard, Eric Noel, Brent Lyons, Ryan McDermott, and Mike Tuccirone all return, the Oaker's Boy's Basketball Team will provide the same excitement.

Wrestling

For their tenth year straight the Coventry Wrestling Team has won the State Championship. Beating out other excellent teams such as the Colts and the Vets. Although we are losing some great wrestlers, such as Scott Ostaman, and Wayne Hawkins, many promising freshman have just come in, LLOYD Steeves, Aaron Becker, Joshua Almedia, and Jason Stevens, to name a few. Of course, Eric Mills, Eric George, Wayne Hawkins, and Derek Fish all kept up their winning and pinning attitudes long enough to take them to the New England Tournament. In talking to Mr. Smith he has high hopes for many of the wrestlers siting the improvement of Mike Gremier over his years at Coventry. So to all the wrestlers of the red and white express I give you my congratulations and wishes of good luck in the future. Let's go for the eleventh title in a row!

Girls' Basketball

Our 1990 - 1991 Girl's Basketball Team had a rough season, but are working hard to be the best that there is for the 1991 - 1992 season. Thanks to the hard work of captain, Jackie Rothfuss, high scorers Kim Magnan and Amy Verdi, the fine coaching efforts of Mr. Morin, and the support of all the fans, our girls brought home four wins this season. Next year State Champs!

Hockey
