Anything But Ordinary

I am an individual
I am a writer expressing my thoughts
I am a dancer constantly searching for a passion
I am an athlete trying to win, even when I know I'll lose
I am an actor searching for the spotlight
I am an artist creating pictures drawn from my imagination.
I am a student
I sometimes wander through the halls
With my head buried beneath my sweatshirt
I sometimes want to quit
Because it all just seems so useless
I sometimes hope graduation will never come
I'm not ready to face the real world alone
I sometimes laugh so hard that I know life is at its best
And I know these memories will never be forgotten.
I am still trying to find where I belong
I may be "popular"
I may dress "punk"
I may go unnoticed
I may be everything to everyone
I may not seem to care.
I will never forget these years
The football games and dances
I will never forget classes and lunches
Simple conversations and jokes in the halls
I will never forget the friends
Who made each day seem better than the last.
I am going to succeed
I will graduate
I will make an impact on the world
I will make it through tough times
And always end up on top
I will follow my dreams because
I am anything but ordinary.

Homecoming 2002

Amanda Patterson

Homecoming 2002 is one of many events that will remain in our minds forever. The day started with the annual parade, where each class as well as some of our school clubs showed their spirit by marching or constructing a float. This year's theme was Classic Television and never have so many clubs and classes participated. The floats ranged from Student Council's "The Munsters," to "The Beverly Hillbillies," and the Senior class's 3-float winning "Gilligan's Island," and everything in between.

At the conclusion of the parade Coventry's faculty and student body flocked to the football field to cheer on the Oakers. In spite of their diligent effort, the Oakers lost to Barrington in a close match, 16-12.

During the halftime show the Homecoming King, Craig Cohen, and Queen, Amanda Hebert, were crowned concluding yet another spectacular Homecoming Day. At the same time the results of the float competition were announced.

Right Middle: The Junior Class will not forget Corey Brassard.
Right Bottom: The 3rd Senior Float which put them over the top - Gilligan's boat.

Below: As always the Coventry High School Marching Band led the way.
Below Right: Here is the third place float, "I Dream of Jeanie" submitted by the Sophomore Class.

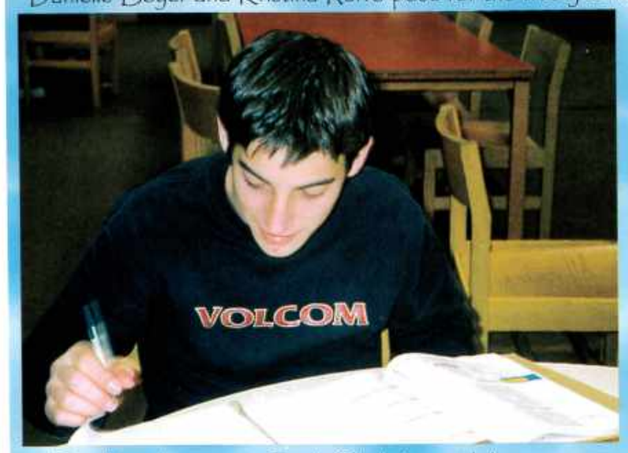

Tarah Sutton is shocked that Glenn is blowing his nose on her scarf!

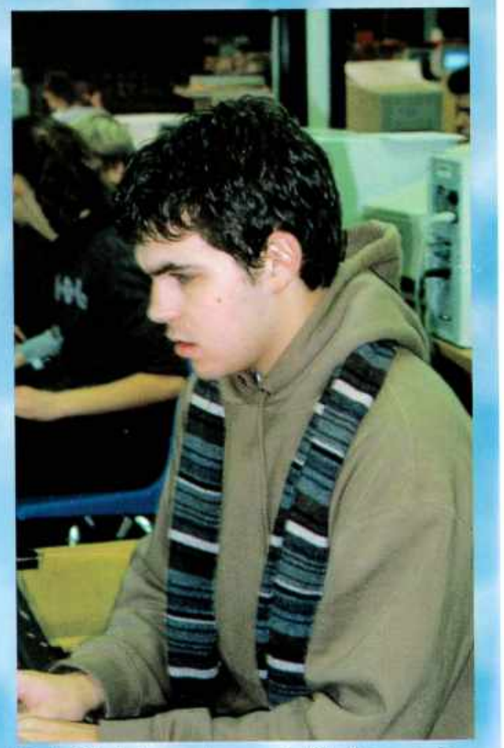

Gino Maiorano seems pleased with his report on cheating in the Old West.

Dan Kendra imitates Zack Clark (see right).

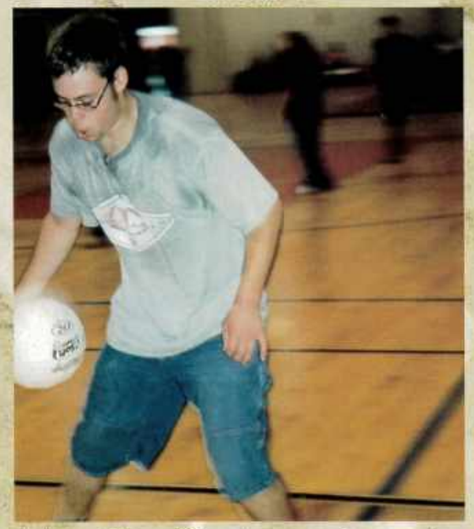

Zack Clark has made an art of looking studious.

Here's Pete Camera attempting to drown himself.

Kylie Manly, Kelly Scott, & Danielle Branch A.K.A "The too cool for camera crew"

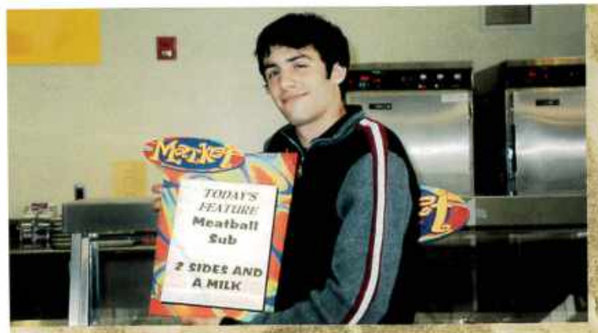

Here's Brian Blanchette performing the triple inverted backwards spin around LMNOP slam dunk, torpedo-launch technique.

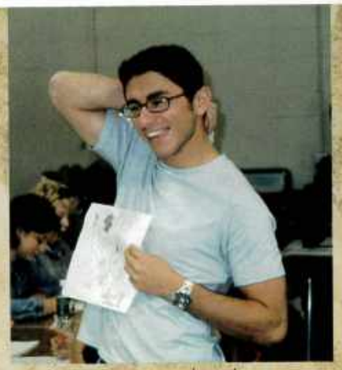

The young Chris Capraro singing a song about how he almost has a beard.

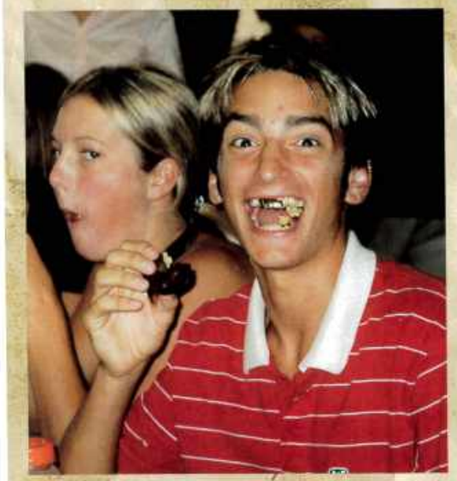

Meghan Brown follows the imaginary fly around her head.

Always lending a helping-hand, Glenn Robinson takes a break from caption writing to assist the lunch ladies.

Lee wants to be the first person who can lick his elbow. Too bad it's impossible.

Andy Roch slowly learns how to eat.

Left: Everyone gathers in a big group of laughter as Mike Daley chokes on a nacho.

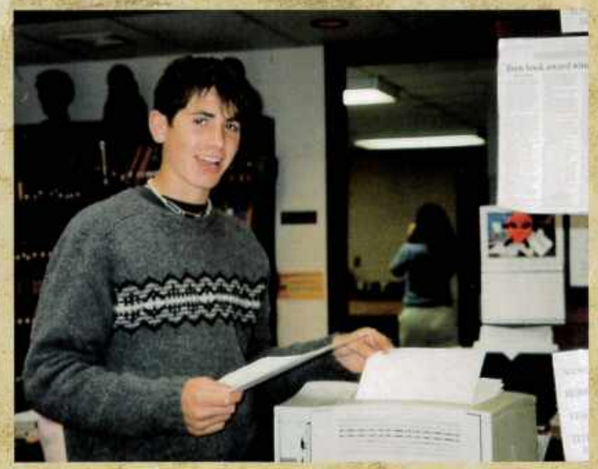

While Seth Printer tries his hardest to play, Kyle Printer wonders how someone could be that bad.

"Hey! I didn't know cameras could do that!!" exclaims Mike Wild.

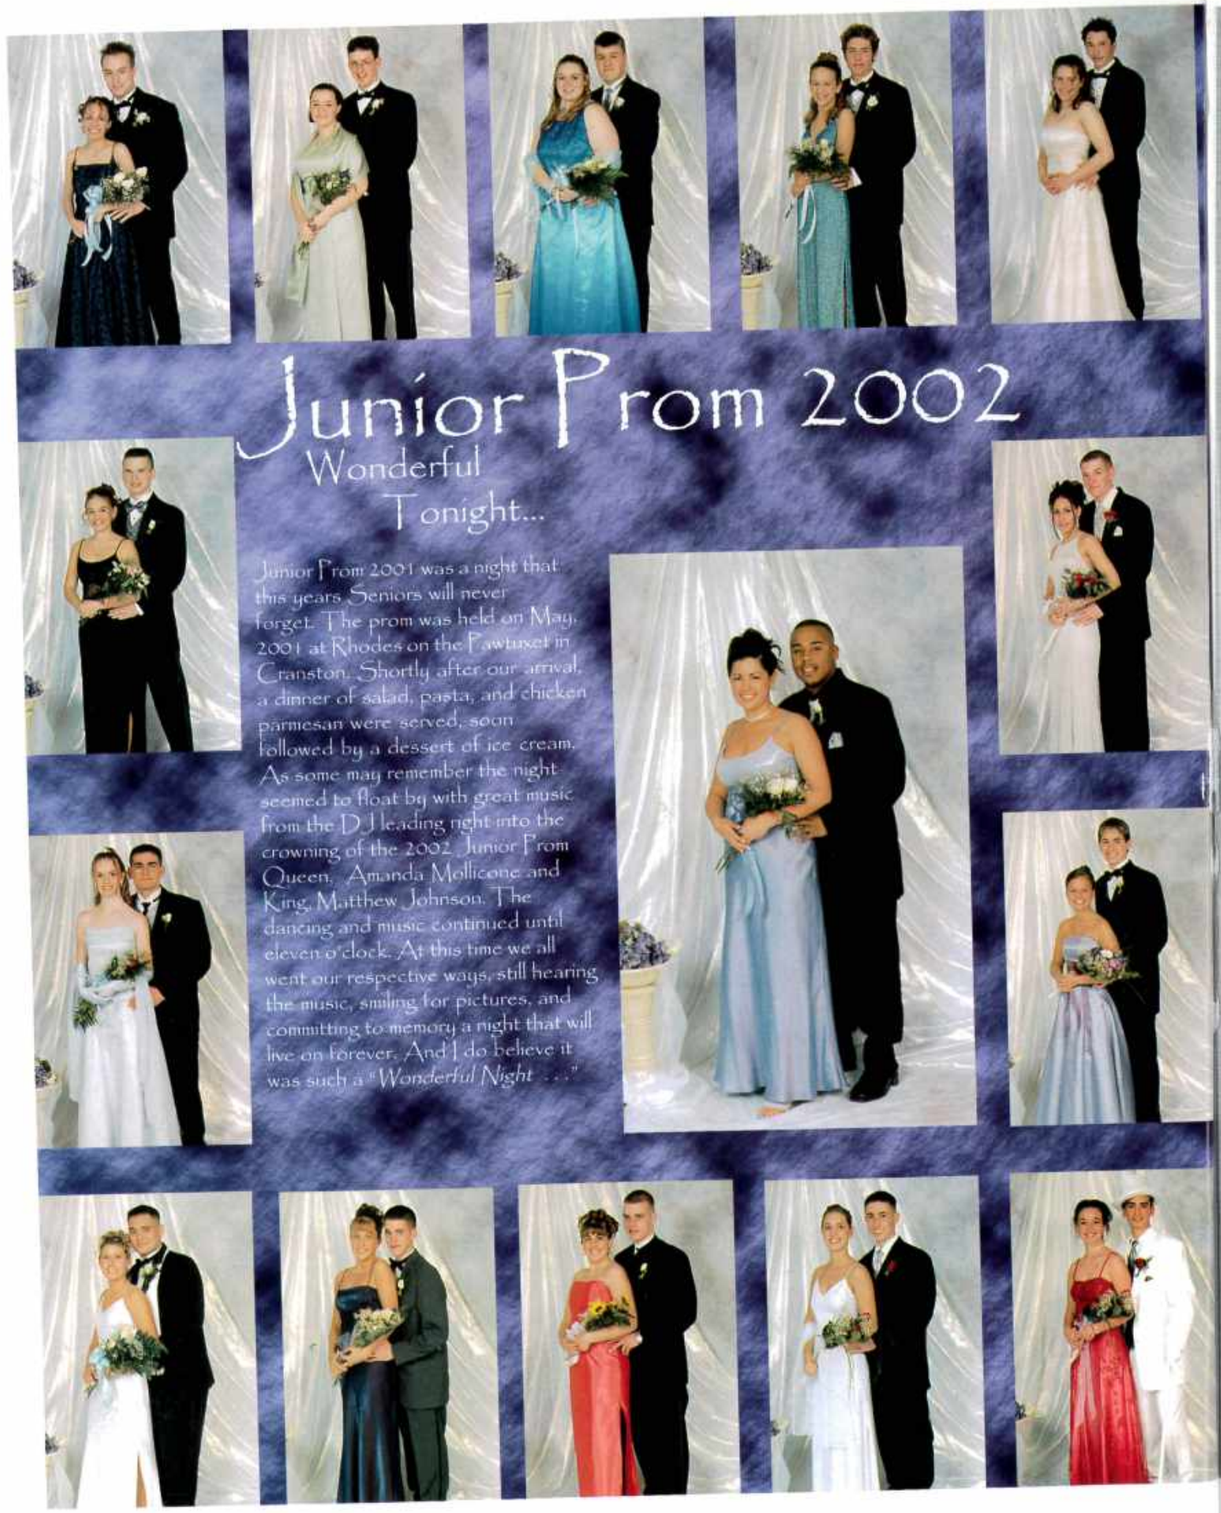

Craig Cohen marvels at the speed of Coventry High School's printing system.

"It's all about the yogurt, young child."

Kylie, Liz, and Nicole demonstrate how people look at you after you fall.

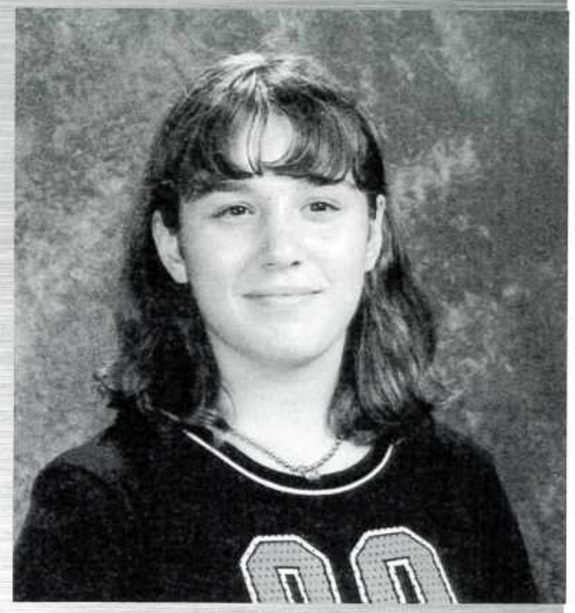

Junior Prom 2002

Wonderful Tonight...

Junior Prom 2001 was a night that this years Seniors will never forget. The prom was held on May, 2001 at Rhodes on the Pawtuxet in Cranston. Shortly after our arrival, a dinner of salad, pasta, and chicken parmesan were served, soon followed by a dessert of ice cream. As some may remember the night seemed to float by with great music from the D J leading right into the crowning of the 2002 Junior Prom Queen, Amanda Mollicone and King, Matthew Johnson. The dancing and music continued until eleven o'clock. At this time we all went our respective ways, still hearing the music, smiling for pictures, and committing to memory a night that will live on forever. And I do believe it was such a "Wonderful Night . . ."

Michaela Bruno

April 30, 1985 - May 6, 2001

Michaela

Today, I saw my best friend.
Although I did not know
That it would be for the last time.
Today, I said good-bye to her,
Though one thing is for sure,
That she'll live in my heart forever.
Today, I went to her funeral,
And what a tragic day.
Everyone says, "But she was only sixteen,"
As they grieved the loss of my friend.
No one knows why God took Michaela,
Instead of someone else.
Maybe it's because He only wants angels,
And that she was.
She was always in a positive mood,
Through the whole ordeal.
No matter how bad a day she was having,
She never let her fear or pain show.
I have lost a best friend today,
And I have had to say good-bye to a lifetime of friendship.
But, I'm never going to say good-bye,
To our life-time of memories.
For Michaela was strong,
And fought to the end.
Michaela truly is an angel now,
Who will watch over everyone.
She was clever, strong, and hopeful.
She just wanted to go to one high school dance,
But, her wish did not come true.
Today, I saw my best friend lying in a coffin,
Wearing her prom dress.
Standing there overwhelmed with grief,
I knew she would never be forgotten

Class History

The History of the Class of 2003

By Kristan Scanlon

Our high school career began on September of 1999 when over four hundred and fifty of us entered Coventry High with hesitation. Never before had we experienced the bell system of switching classes, never before had we experienced such independence. Mr. Thompson was our principal and we followed a seven-period schedule. Kayla Alexion, whom we elected President early on, helped to make memories for all of us. She played a major role in our first Homecoming while riding in a truck full of hay during the parade. How could we not have won that year? However, the year ended with the Freshman Semi-Formal, which was a memorable event to all.

Becoming sophomores was relieving, for we were no longer spoken to as, "the freshman." The year brought both new and old experiences including the block scheduling and the dreaded teaming. We were growing up though, and facing many changes and difficult times together. Our President, Amanda Hebert, the Jell-O-Wrestling champ, brought us to the end of our sophomore year with the Sophomore Semi-Formal, "From this Moment," in memory of our classmate, Michaela Bruno.

With half of high school in the history books, we were ready to be upperclassmen. We elected Jennifer Daley as class President with hopes to make the '01-'02 school year eventful. Finally, we were able to attend formal dances including the Junior-Senior Winterball, "Winter Wonderland", and our Junior Prom, "Wonderful Tonight," in April at the extravagant Rhodes on the Pawtuxet. It was a wonderful night for Amanda Mollicone who caused roars, tears, and smiles when crowned Queen (Yay JPQ!). Class Day came sooner than expected, yet our procrastination proved to be but another success! The usual sadness and happiness brought the day to an end as we gave a fond farewell to the Seniors, turned our rings at the command of Amanda Hebert, and held our heads high. We were officially seniors!

Our Senior year started off one of the most memorable years for the class of 2003. Mr. Nelson, our new principal, began just right by immediately putting senior privileges into play. In October, two senior teams won the HUNT, one for the scavenger hunt, the other for costume, which started our winning streak of that year. Seniors, 2 and 0, went confidently into November and took home another win with our Homecoming float, "Giligan's Island." At that year's Homecoming, Amanda Hebert and Craig Cohen were crowned Homecoming king and queen. It was time for us to buckle down, however, and get our college applications in to our guidance counselors- a long process that we were proud to finally complete. Amanda Hebert, re-elected President, worked hard with the executive board, social committee, and advisory board to make our final Winterball- "The Snowball," a success. Our fabulous Senior Ball was held at the Westin Hotel in Providence. Our time ruling the school was quickly coming to an end. In June, Class Day, followed by graduation on June 19th at PPAC. One by one we walked across the stage, changed from high school students to high school graduates. Our years at Coventry High School had come to an end.

Together we made it through the thick and the thin of our four years at CHS. Even though we are all heading in different directions and becoming part of the "real world," we will always be a part of the Class of 2003 at Coventry High School.

Juniors

The class of 2004 has come a long way since our freshman year. Some of us have grown taller, many of us have worked to become smarter, but we've all learned that to make it through the high school experience we need to stick together as a class. Through the years we've managed to look ahead and concentrate on keeping friendships, work, and education as our main focuses.

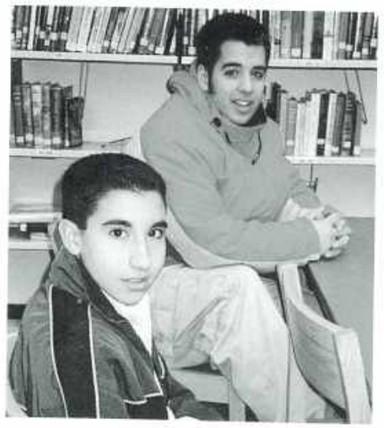

Many of us have gotten involved over the last three years in activities such as radio, music, sports, drama, student government, and community service programs. Now that we are upperclassmen we have a chance to stop and take a look at the years we have left behind. Though we have made new friends, we have lost old. We have flourished in new activities, and allowed some to fade out. And yes, though we have learned new materials, we have forgotten much of those we cared less for. However, we look forward to learning new things, meeting new people, and trying new ideas. As a class we can confidently say, "I tried it all."

Charming, young gentleman, Jeremy Chevalier, gives up his seat for Morgan Tobin and Jessica Wiesner.

Sophomores

Encountering the new experiences during our sophomore year at Coventry High School, the class of 2005 is ready to take on any challenge. With high hopes we strive to convert our dreams into reality.

Climbing the social ladder, we have established a name for ourselves by overcoming the dreaded title of "lowly freshmen." Sandwiched between the towering upperclassmen and naive freshmen, we manage to enjoy our years at CHS. Loosened from the restraints from teaming, our class was the first underclassmen to experience the freedom of choice with our schedules.

Playing a role in the various activities of our school, the Sophmore class has participated in numerous events. With a year of experiance, we were able to capture third place in the float competition during the annual Homecoming parade. Given the start of a new year, Sophmores rose to the occasion during the Spirit Week competition, determined to make a new name for themselves. The class of 2005's Freshmen dance was memorable to all and only hightened the anticipation of our Sophomore Semi-Formal. Such exciting and memorable events created Kodak moments during our first two years of high school. As strong-willed, active, exciting, risk-takers, our class has accomplished much. We have overcome the loss of many different principals in the course of our two years, and adjusted to the standards of our new teachers. Battling ceaseless amounts of homework, projects, and tests, we must face the task of meeting the "CIM" requirements. Headstrong, the Sophomore Class at CHS has an eye for the future.

One can see Nickolas Agneta's dedication to school, working away with a broken foot.

"I need my beauty sleep, saysEric Houle .

Freshmen Class

As the first bell sliced through the air, the voices began to fade, and all of the freshmen began to scurry into their homerooms, afraid to be late on their first day of school. As they looked around at all the unfamiliar faces, their stomachs turning, and fond memories of their past years at the middle school running through their minds, they became even more nervous about the next day, when the upperclassmen would join them. Little did they know, even fonder memories would soon be created.

As the year continues, we learn of new opportunities every day. New friendships are formed, and new talents are born. Whether it be dance team, track, or even science club, there is an activity for every personality.

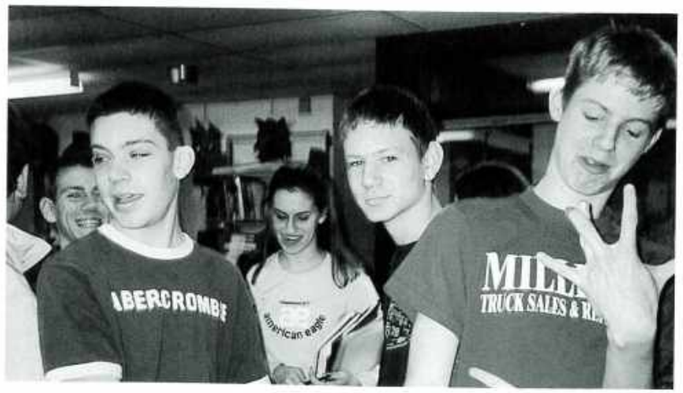

The years ahead will be much like the long corridors we find ourselves walking down every day. Though we may have a destination in mind, we must open many different doors and even ask directions from many different people before arriving there.

Intro to Student Life

"I am myself and no one else."
Matt Marshall

Students at Coventry High School come together in many different ways. Through team sports, clubs and different organizations, students put their best ideas forth. Spirit and pride is shown best through Coventry High School's many team sports. Creativity flows freely as clubs such as the student council put together school activities such as the Junior and Senior Prom and Spirit week. The community is frequently helped by students in clubs such as DECA which raised money to give needy families gifts this Christmas.

Student life at Coventry High School stretches far beyond participation and wins. Students form bonds and friendships that exist outside of the CHS walls. Goals are reached and struggles are overcome. Student Life represents who each student is on the inside as well as on the outside. Students true colors show as they break free of their six hour schedule and meet together after school.

Student life represents the free spirit, good willed and fun side of all Coventry High School's students. It carries the lessons learned outside of school that will never be forgotten. Lastly, it represents our student body in the most admirable way.

"I Am unique, I am a Drama geek. I am lost and confused. I am a hopeless, rational romantic. I am a skeptical dreamer. I am everything and nothing because I am me." Jen Drummond

"I am one of many students trying to make it through the jungle we call high school." Billy Alden

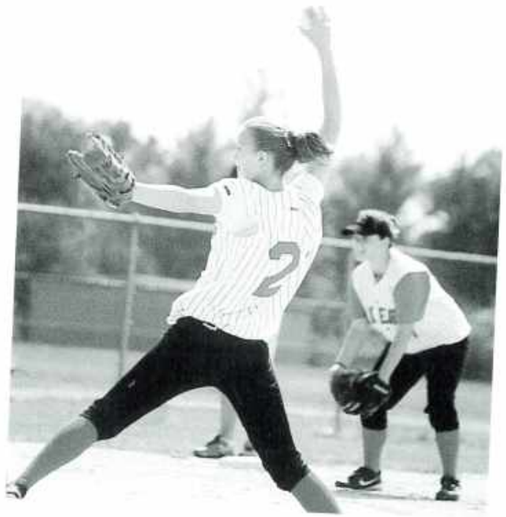

"I compete because I get a rush at defeating my opponent one on one."
Chris Boudreau

"I compete for the glory and I compete and leave my heart on the court. I compete for pride."
Lauren Picozzi

"I compete so I can win and beat everyone who thinks they are better."
Crystal Leo

I compete ... Sports

At Coventry High School students put their whole hearts into the love of the game. Sports become more than a game, expanding far beyond winning and losing. Students learn to throw, kick, dance, jump, and most importantly to fly. They learn to fight, even when they can see defeat.

The Sports at Coventry High School unite students in brilliant teams. Together they grow, learn and fight to compete for the win.

"I compete because I am competitive. I enjoy beating someone at their own game and the natural high in winning individually." Justin Marshall

Football

Girls Soccer

The Lady Oakers Soccer team finished the 2002 season with a record of 14-3-2, and was the Division 2 South Champions. Considering the fact that the Lady Oakers had only 4 returning starters from the 2001 campaign, it's amazing that the ladies made it to the state semi-finals. The 4 returning starters played a major role in the maturation of the young Oakers. The team was led by first team all-state selection, Siobhan McCaffrey, with 19 goals and 15 assistsl and assisted by Captain Loryssa Simas with 7 goals and 6 assists, Tiffany Giusti, 10 goals and 2 assists, and Captain Mackenzie Zabbo, who led the defensive core of the team. The only other returning player, Marissa Hickey, became a starter this year and did a great job contributing with 3 goals and 3 assists. Senior Emily Moore returned after missing a year and did a great job of pitching in with 3 goals and 4 assists, while doing a solid job on defense. Some new additions to the team played a huge role in the success of the team including: Freshmen Lauren Biondo and Nicole Peckham, Sophomores Liz Patnode and Jess Pacheco, and Junior Kristen Hickey. Sophomore Beth Bell became the starting goalie this year and did an outstanding job. She recorded all 14 victories and also had 7 shutouts to her credit.

The ladies suffered a first round defeat to North Smithfield 2-1 in the state playoffs. Despite the loss the ladies still won their division and are primed to repeat next year with visions of a state championship. The ladies would like to say goodbye to seniors Emily Moore and Meredith Vallee. Best of luck in the future, ladies.

Boys Basketball

The 2002-2003 Coventry High School Boys Basketball Team was anchored by five seniors this year and a group of up-and-coming juniors. Craig Cohen, Steve Hawkins, and Mike Marsocci served as captains for the team. Sean LaPointe and Matt Tower also provided senior leadership and helped the team in supporting roles. All the seniors had some great games in which they scored double figures and contributed to the team's improvement. Steve Hawkins received special honors at the WW tourney this year due to his great play. Cohen and Marsocci also received honors at the Coventry Credit Union Classic this year. Meanwhile, the team is looking toward the future and promising play of Ryan Halpin, Matt Lyons, Jonathan Bartlett, Aaron Willey and Matt Lawton. Also, super sophomores Josh Malloy, Travis Leffert and three-point specialists Gregg Mrurk all seem to have a bright "Oaker" future.

Girls Basketball

The Girls Basketball Team had a really strong season this year, playing well all season in the competitive Division One League. Lauren Picozzi and Sherry Heard were top scorers for the season with about 300 points each. Senior Lauren Picozzi and Junior Sherry Heard were named to the 2nd team, all-state Division I. Jessica DiFazio contributed with Honorable Mention in the all-state honors.

Coventry also had strong action from forward senior Jessica Petrarca, and guards, juniors Nicole St Jean, Katie Ratigan, Megan Nesset, Jess DiFazio and sophomore Beth Bell. Next year the team is looking forward to a successful year with five returning juniors.

Wrestling

The Coventry Oakers Wrestling Team struggled through an injury – prone season to finish with a dual-meet record of 11-5. Although many injuries debilitated the team's dual meet performances, the tournament team fared particulary well. The Oakers had 4 place finishers in the Lancer Holiday Tournament (including one champion), 11 place finishers in the Chad Antoch Memorial Wrestling Tournament (including 3 champions and one Outstanding wrestler), 4 place finishers in the Chelmsford Tournament, and 3 place finishers in the Warwick Vets Invitational Tournament (including one champion). The team is graduating 5 seniors who are leaving next year's varsity lineup with a good foundation for success.

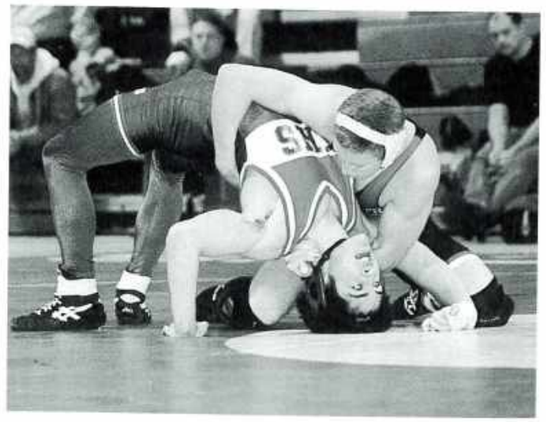

In the State Championships, Senior Chuck Nelson and Ryan Andrews placed 2nd for their weight and Eric Toye placed 5th. Second Team All-State Honors went to Chuck Nelson and Ryan Andrews. Second Team All-Division Honors went to Chuck Nelson, Ryan Andrew and Keith DeCesare.

Hockey -- 1st in State!

The Coventry High School Hockey Team had a very successful year taking the State Championship against East Greenwich in two games with scores of 5-2 and 3-2. Corey Manley was the MVP in the championship games. With a finishing record of 12-4-3 in the regular season, the Oakerstook second in the division, and third overall in the Metropolitan B conference. The team had a great end tothe season, being undefeated in the last ten games(8-0-2), including a 5 game winning streak and then winning the playoffs. Captain goaltender, Joseph DeMatteo, had an outstanding senior season posting 3 shutouts and a 1.48 goals against average, third in the league. Senior, assistant captain, Patrick Fratus, lead the team with 21 points, followed by junior, Sean O'Connor and sophomore, Cory Manley. Senior Geoff Bouchard also had a profound impact on the team coming back from an unfortunate absence. He was the top scorer in the scholoarship game along with Patrick, both having 3 points. Joseph also played and posted another shutout, making 9 saves. The team, overall, had a tremendous season with special thanks to Swedish exchange student, Oscar Kjellman and the coaching staff.

Drama Club

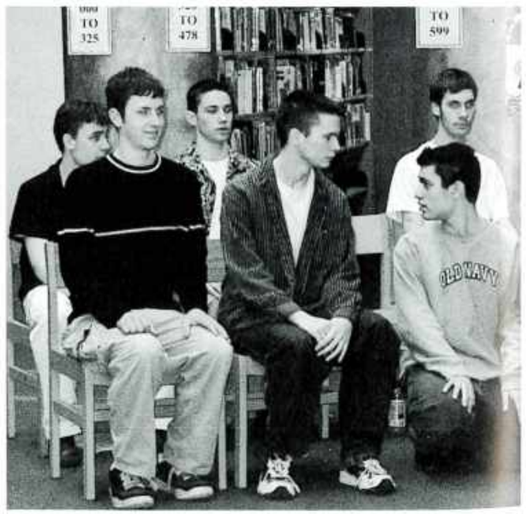

The ever-growing drama family at Coventry High School started off the year 2002 with the bang of live drums, wailing guitars, and ladders galore. In the fall production of William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Director, Mr. Myke Wilkenson, decided that this would not be the classic tight wearing cast of the show that many people envision when the word "Shakespeare" is uttered. This was an entirely modern-day production, from the clothes, to the live band "Long Way Around," to the lack of "thee"s and "thou"s. The set consisted of dozens of assorted sized ladders, a few platforms, and a stunning backdrop. With newcomers to the Coventry stage, John Salisbury and Amanda Sarro, as the title roles, and familiar faces such as Matt "Martie" Arnold, Kyle Blanchette, and James Troll, the show was a huge success. Along with the choreographed karate stage fights, the show also featured a solo performed by Jen Drummond.

In the New Year, after much deliberation, the competition play was finally chosen, and was waiting in the wings. "The Rose of Treason", from day one, was a controversy. The audition posters were put up, depicting a white rose in front of a swastika and they were quickly torn down. Taking place in Nazi Germany, this is the true story of a few college kids making a difference in a time of mass destruction. The play is an emotional story about bravery, friendship, and faith in what is right. The play proved to be a Huge Success, winning the State Drama Festival and the cast went on to the New England Festival. Receiving recognition in the state competition were Matt Marshall, Jen Drummond, Matt Arnold, Jessica Beland, and Vanessa Rogers. On this page are rehearsal scenes from the 'Rose of Treason.

Intro to Clubs

"I participate because I want to belong. Because I want everyone to know me; my ideas, my capabilities, my opinions."

Kendra Duhaime

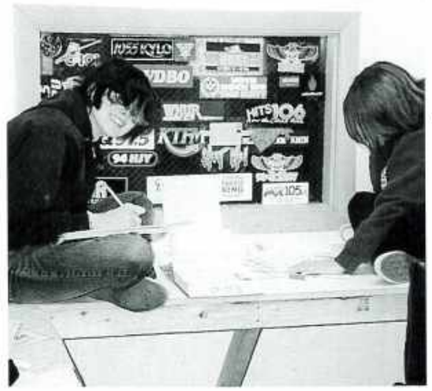

Students that participate in clubs at Coventry High School contribute greatly to the school's community. Each student, using his or her personal interests, finds an after-school club or activity to belong to working with others and forming bonds with students and faculty. Whether it is performing in the "Drama Club" volunteering within the "Interact Club" or designing the yearbook, each club is influencing the overall spirit of our school community.

"I participate so I have memories of doing instead of memories of watching."

"I participate so I can have memories to remember and share years after graduation."

Chorus

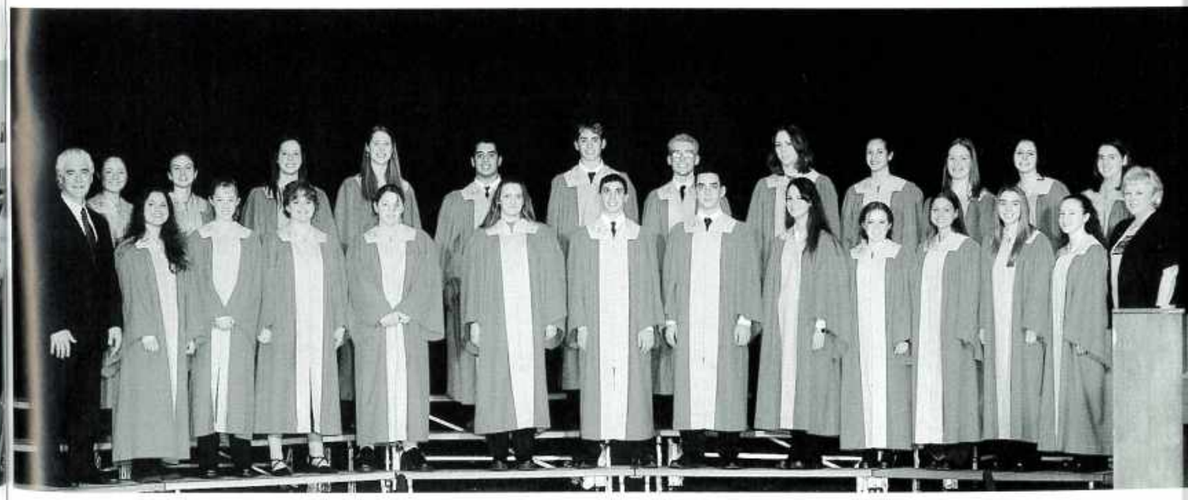

The Coventry High School Select Chorus directed by Mr. Brad DeGraide began their year strong, performing at a concert remembering September 11th – just a week after school began. The group of fewer than thirty members worked diligently on pieces to be performed in the Holiday and Spring Concerts, as well as their pieces to be performed at the Rhode Island Choral Festival and the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland. Six members of the Chorus also were accepted in the All-State Chorus or Jazz Choir after auditioning with selected songs. They were Kate Znoj, Katherine Olszewski, Stephanie Ferrara, Kasey Patenaude, and Jon Travers for the All-State Chorus, and Addie Archambault for the All-State Jazz Choir. The chorus performed at other events such as a Providence Bruins Hockey Game and Varsity Review.

Band

The Coventry High Jazz Ensemble has had an eventful yet enjoyable year. With Director Bill Smith and student teacher Janice Ford, the students played a wide variety of music ranging from jazz to funk along with some improvisational solos. Eddie Tomassi, a professor at Berklee School of Music in Boston, made two appearances demonstrating to the eager jazz band members some different techniques of jazz, swing and bee bop along with improvisation.

Some performances the jazz band participated in were the Varsity Review, the Music Department Holiday Concert, and a visit to a senior center. They also appeared in Coventry's, Exeter-West Greenwich's and West Warwick's Jazz Nights as well as a performance at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, Ohio.

With an ensemble full of talented young players, the Jazz Ensemble is looking forward to another year, anticipating more outstanding performances.

ROTC

Rhode Island's 81st Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps is known throughout the community for their motivation, leadership, service, and excellence. This past year, the Coventry AFJROTC unit proved a commitment to excellence in all of its ventures at Coventry High School and in the local community.

A cornerstone of the JROTC program is community service. Cadets are often involved in community service programs, and betterment activities. These services range from cleaning recreational sites to locating the graves of lost veterans. Our Drill Team has proven themselves to be the very best in the nation. They are the reigning Air Force National JROTC Armed Overall Drill Team Champions. These highly motivated cadets spend countless hours perfecting their routine and they have the trophies to prove it. Their skill, dedication, and motivation have made them the best in the country.

Our Kitty Hawk Air Honor Society has recorded numerous tutoring hours in our school and in the community. They provide a free tutoring service to anyone in need. Several Kitty Hawk cadets are members of the Awareness Presentation Team. These fine cadets work with D.A.R.E. officers at local elementary schools educating children about drug awareness, teaching children how to say no to drugs and alcohol, and providing students with positive roll models.

This has certainly been an exciting year in AFJROTC. RI 81st AFJROTC is a motivated and dedicated group of cadets. Many of these cadets are learning leadership techniques that will help them in a career in the military. Others are learning the same techniques that are necessary in running a business. Our cadets strive for excellence in the activities we involve ourselves in. As the Air Force Core Values teach, "Integrity first, Service before self, and Excellence in all we do." This is a motto taught in the U.S. Air Force and it is demonstrated frequently and consistently by Rhode Island's 81st AFJROTC.

Daffodil and Tulip Bulbs

Remembering September 11

A little over a year ago, as Americans, we all watched the twin towers fall as suddenly our safety was shattered. Instantly, an unconceivable act had taken place and people grasped to hold onto what they believed to be the most important things in their lives. Americans found a new pride in their country as they began to unite through this tragedy. Many lives were lost and the times began to change before our eyes.

Every person will remember where they were and what they thought as America was attacked. As students at Coventry High School, we have lived through this tragedy and will never forget it. This year, as a September 11th tribute, each student planted a tulip bulb. In the spring, the tulips will bloom and serve as a memorial for all the lost lives. Even in a time of tragedy, people will continue to live and flowers will continue to grow. Life goes on.

The Snowball

On January 31,2003, Juniors and Seniors all gathered at the West Valley Inn for the year's "Snowball." Everyone dressed their best and looked wonderful for their pictures. The meal entailed salad, soup and pasta with ice cream sandwiches for dessert. The real fun began when the lights dimmed and students became friends and let loose on the dance floor. What was hours, seemed like minutes and suddenly the last song was played.

Juniors and Seniors put on their coats and left the dance with smiles on their faces. The flowers soon wilted and the night began to blur, but the pictures will always hold the memories and laughs from a truly lovely night.

Student Council

This school would not be the same without the support of the 2002-2003 Student Council. This year's president was David Prata. Also, helping out this year were Casey McLellan, (Vice-president), Kenneth Gareau (Treasurer), Jennifer Gareau (Assistant Treasurer), Anne Godin (Recording Secretary), Stephanie Shock (Corresponding Secretary), Amanda Mollicone (Senior Class Representative), Kenneth Sylvia (Junior Class Representative), and Teddy Tracy (Sophomore Representative). Starting with Homecoming, School Spirit Week, many dances, and numerous leadership programs, Student Council has had a busy and successful year. As we close this year, we look forward to next year.

WCVY

"You're listening to FM 91.5 WCVY Coventry" This is the first thing you hear every week day at 2 PM when WCVY signs on air. WCVY has been broadcasting student voices for over 24 years. Many CVY alumni have gone on to be professional broadcasters. WCVY is the oldest High School Radio station in Rhode Island and one of the oldest in New England.

The beginning of this year brought many changes to the station. There was further remodeling, painting, new equipment, and even a new staff rotation. This year has nine seniors that have been part of CVY for the past four years, which is the most in recent years. Leading the senior and underclassmen staff is Mr. Murray, with the assistance of student Program Director, Christopher Larose. Both of them have been in their positions for 2 years.

WCVY will be hiring new staff at the beginning of the new school year. This is a great opportunity for students interested in broadcasting, music, technology, and public relations to join. When the seniors leave, the underclassmen will take over new responsibilities and will be the trainers instead of the trainees. It has been a long hard year but the best has come to the surface. "Till next year this is FM 91.5 WCVY signing off."

Interact

Headed by Mrs. Johanson and Mrs. Youst, the Interact Club reaches out to the community with a goal to help others. Interact members' always complete tasks with a positive outlook on the future, and the intent to help those in need.

At the beginning of the year, the Interact Club started off by tagging for the Tomorrow Fund to help several children and their families who battle against the horrible disease of cancer. By raising nearly one thousand dollars, the club was able to provide a generous donation to the fund. In addition, a great amount of Interact participants ran/walked the 5 K David Najarian Race to raise money for college-bound students at CHS. Furthermore, the Interact Club at CHS adopted a family during the holiday season and purchased nearly five hundred dollars worth of gifts for the family. All in all, the Interact club at CHS continues to schedule and participate in events by lending out a helping hand to the Coventry community.

Model Legislature

Led by Mr. Nolan, the Model Legislature group is focusing in on the future! In this club, the members work hard to come up with at least six bills to present to the State House in April of 2003. The members focus on bettering our community by making changes in the state's legal system to shape a better community!

Currently, with quite a few members, the Model Legislature bunch is in the process of fine-tuning bills to present at the State House in April. In the near future, we will be making a visit to the State House in Providence. Looking towards the future, the headstrong and determined group take action in altering the legislative body of Rhode Island to better fit the needs of the people!!

YearBook

Many study periods, and after school hours went into this yearbook's production. The theme, "I Am" was determined because it was a representation of who the students are inside and outside of school. "I Am" stretches far beyond the reaches of education and into the personalities and goals of each student. The quotes were taken from every student in each grade to make the yearbook more personal.

This year, the co-editors of the yearbook were Amy Renaissen, Jacqueline Mulligan and Tiffany O'Neill. Along with Mrs. Gendron, their advisor, and other students shown on these pages, they worked to produce a yearbook to represent all aspects of student life at Coventry High School.

DECA

The Coventry High School D.E.C.A. (Distributive Education Clubs of America) successfully obtained and delivered over 6,000 Christmas presents to approximately 3,500 needy people this year. D.E.C.A. had approximately 140 stores throughout the Kent County who were participating this year. In 1987 this project won the National D.E.C.A. Championship for Civic Consciousness. This is the fifteenth year the project has served the needy and elderly.

The presents go to ALL the needy families from Coventry's Department of Human Services, ALL Coventry's six elementary schools' needy students, Coventry Middle and High School needy students, 815 D.C.Y.F. children, 126 Spring of Life Church Homeless children, and 52 homeless children from St. Mary's. Homeless shelters in Providence such as McAuley House, Amos House, Advent House, and St. Anthony's House also benefit. D.E.C.A. even has 350 all male teenage homeless shelters from New York that receive presents from this project. Riverview, Roberts Health Center, and Woodpecker Hill are the three nursing homes that receive presents too.

The best part of the Christmas project is when D.E.C.A. holds its annual Christmas party for our "Reach Out" students. One of our students even plays "Santa" while the rest pass out food and beverages to all the students and guests.

The project also organize a school wide "Adopt-A-Family" program where ALL of the clubs and activity advisors purchase Christmas dinner, clothes, and presents for the family D.E.C.A. assigns them. The families come from Coventry's Department of Human Services. D.E.C.A. students sell "Goody Grams" providing each club and advisors $25 per child to shop for their families.

Some 150 students in grades 9-12 participated in the event designed to provide students with an opportunity to improve their research and experimental skills and to complete a hands-on project. The top winners this year included freshman, Katrina Nacci who won Best of Fair with a project on "Bioluminescence as a Pollution Indicator." Senior Nichole Fugere was the runner-up with "Flies with No Eyes." Matthew DiMicco took third place with "Endotoxin Test Methods with the Use of Amebocyte Lysate."

First grant recipients included Allie Chabot, Beth McArdle, Richard Ferri, Alysha Coppola, Amy Krajewski, Karen Quinn, Michael Ross, and Lauren Killea

The theme this year was "Rights and Responsibilities" and this year there were well over 100 entries. The winning entries this year in our school included the following. In the Group Exhibits: Ashley Maher, Jessica Horn and Bethany Carlow in 1st place and Carolyn Crist, Beth Bell, Shana Schloth and Jane Herron in 2nd place. Individual exhibit winners were Robert Grandchamp, 1st place and Danielle Dwyer, 2nd. The Individual performance winners were L.J. Regine and Vanessa Rogers. Group Documentary winners were James Tarro and Jon Travers, 1st place, and Ross Casey, Victor Carlu, and Bashar Shehadeh in 2nd place. John McDonough won the paper entry. These students will be advancing to the State competition and hopefully to the Nationals in June.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a club at Coventry High School which students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.6 are inducted into. Together, the students work hard to help the community. The many members of the National Honor Society have complete numerous hours of community service in hospitals, child care facilities, church groups, scouting and youth programs. In addition, they sponsored the "Parent Conference Bake Sale" in an effort to raise funds to adopt a family at Christmas time. The honor society provided the holiday gifts for a local family.

This year, the Secretaries of the National Honor Society were Tricia Harbor and Ashley Mills, the Treasurer was Emily Moore, the Vice President was Nicole Ayala, and the President was Zack Clark.

On June 7th, 1985,
We received a phone call, "Aimee has arrived."
Next came Danielle, one fine September day,
Another bundle of joy had come our way.
One day early in December, while our doctor was at lunch,
Elizabeth was born, the last of the bunch.
Aimee has the laugh and Danielle has her smile,
Elizabeth's the joker, which makes it all worthwhile.
Three very different girls, easy to tell apart,
The one thing they have in common is the kindness in their heart.
Elizabeth, Dannie, and Aimee will go their separate way.
We hope they will always hold that special bond,
Which we know will take them to the stars and beyond!

Christina,

As we look back on your childhood, it was full of adventures.

From day one it was plain to see how very determined you were to try everything. You could come up with the most creative ways to pass the time! The road has been a bit bumpy. Your decision to go to college for your senior year was an excellent choice. Mrs. Tracy was right to say you would come into your own when you started college. It has helped you to be more independent and responsible. We are so proud of you and your accomplishments. Go out there and make some noise!
